MODERATOR. Donald W. Stucke, president of the Granite City School Board, presides at a public hearing held at GCHS South Tuesday evening on the possible closing of three schools.

CRASH SURPRISES EMPLOYEE

A faulty transmission is blamed for a car crashing into and breaking part of the concrete block wall of the Employment Security and Unemployment Compensation office, 1820 Cleveland Blvd., at 9:05 a.m. Tuesday. The crash into a restroom surprised an employee who was there. Corrairie Polacek, of 30 Holiday Mobile Park, started the station wagon engine in the parking gear but the car backed up, hit the parked auto of Richard Kymion, Glen Carbon, and then struck the wall.

REPETITIVE PROBLEM in Madison. Safety of Illinois Ternal Railroad crossings has been challenged periodically for many years by the Madison city administration. Three railroad cars went off the tracks at the Iowa Street crossing at 11:40 a.m. Monday and remained blocking Iowa this week. The tracks have been completely separated in several places, but railroad authorities refer to the derailment as minor. The Madison City Council at its meeting Feb. 20 voted to ask the Interstate Commerce Commission to hold a hearing on the condition of crossings at State Street, Grand and Madison avenues, Iowa Street and Washington Avenue.

Parents in 3 school areas oppose plan

Over 500 citizens crowded into the South High auditorium Tuesday night in response to the School Board's hearing on proposed closing of the aging McKinley, Stallings and Washington grade schools, with more of the 24 who spoke voicing opposition to the cost-cutting plan.

Board members acknowledged the comments and written statements and indicated they plan to decide next Tuesday, March 6, on what steps to take to reduce the income-expenditure imbalance for the 1979-80 school year. Administrators and board members were assailed by some in the audience for permitting the financial crisis to develop, but were praised by others for the quality of the educational services that are being provided—services that many McKinley, Stallings and Washington area families want continued.

Supt. Bob J. Davis outlined the problem and then residents were given five to ten minutes each to express their opinions. Frequent applause indicated that opponents of closing were in the majority, but there was some applause also for those who favored spending cutbacks. No immediate answers were given to questions from those speaking. Some cost reduction plans from the audience involved closing relatively new schools, and idea that board members said after the hearing they could not accept due to differing operating-maintenance costs.

Alderman Lloyd Bailey, first member of the audience to speak, said, "Washington kids walk to school and have good attendance. We have fine parents and teachers. We love our school, and ask that you reconsider."

"Granite City Steel is expanding and American Steel may hire 100 or 150 more employees when a new building is finished. The old Commonwealth plant is being used, and the old National Lead plant has been purchased. We plead with you to use these added taxes and keep the school open."

Ronald Teachnor, a Washington parent, said, "You have cut the board staff, but we feel you could cut more. You've asked older teachers to consider early retirement. Can't the board postpone these closings until it can see whether the retirements are enough to reduce the costs?"

Mrs. Brenda Lester said, "We understand that at Logan you'll be putting up a curtain to divide one classroom, and making another room from a teachers' lounge. A special class will be in a very small room. Washington pupils sent to Prather will have to leave before the junior high children, and won't this limit their music and other learning opportunities and perhaps cause psychological disturbance? Schools are not prisons. These children are human beings, not animals."

Joel Williams, told the board, "The 19th Street overpass is going to block trucks going to the American Steel Foundries. Are you planning to close Washington so they can use that for access?"

Davie Noel said, "Lunch hours will be a problem for the fifth and sixth graders sent to Prather Junior High. What will happen to their after-school activities and scouting? You should weigh the issues and avoid things that can do tremendous damage."

Mrs. Clara Waterson said, "I'm sorry not to see a woman on the School Board. I oppose closing the schools, and feel that this view is shared by everyone in Granite City."

Russell Waterson said, "I moved here from St. Louis because of close-knit Granite City togetherness. One of the reasons for St. Louis school problems is their transfers of students and the lack of safety. Let's not make the same mistake. If at all possible, postpone this for a year or two. The kids are not yet ready for this."

Mrs. Mildred Adams commented that "with inflation and the gasoline shortage, we shouldn't start busing more children to school. Let's send letters to the governor demanding that more money be provided for the schools."

Donald Shemwell said, "Logan is a speeding spot and there are three taverns around the corner from it. Washington has a tradition of fine quality of learning. Grade school children should not be sent to Prather, a junior high school, which is totally different. Washington has a basement where kids can go during a tornado or other emergency, and the school is important to our property values."

Floyd Baxter said, "Washington is a good school. There have been many bus accidents, and it is dangerous to send loads of 50 children on these buses. Our taxes are high, but we're willing to pay more taxes if we have to."

Speaking against closing McKinley School, Alderman Charles Douglas said, "When I went to school we thought the school system was one of the best in the state, in the top five. The school should be retained as the center of its neighborhood. If you have to close something, close the other high school or Grigby Junior High. We've just seen the former chief law enforcement officer in Madison County convicted, and some are getting special favors from hidden tax cuts. When the School Board is hiring, you have to be the son or daughter of a politician to be chosen."

Charlotte Warnhoff said, "The string orchestra is being treated as second-class, and should be given first-class treatment. We need to continue

Drainage study

By VALERIE EVENEDEN

U.S. Army Corps of Engineers planners were impressed by the magnitude of water-related problems facing residents, businesses and communities located in the area of the Cahokia Canal and American Bottoms groundwater studies, concerns expressed to the engineers Tuesday night.

More than 125 private citizens and representatives of drainage districts, cities, villages and Chambers of Commerce met at Granite City High School North for the first public meeting in recent times to be conducted by the U.S. Army Engineer District, St. Louis, on the twin studies.

Results of this and subsequent public involvement sessions will determine whether or not projects proposed by the Corps will continue past the initial study phase, Colonel Leon McKinley, district engineer, stressed at the start of the meeting.

At the conclusion of the session, Richard Astrack, Corps of Engineers study manager, stated, "Based on what I've learned tonight, there are some

Bizarre murder solved

With "home invasion by a stranger" ruled out as a factor in the Feb. 16 murder of Leon "Leo" LaBott, Madison County Sheriff Emil Toffant yesterday afternoon concluded that the case has been solved and that the lone killer was William Weiss Jr. The latter apparently took his own life Feb. 22.

Circumstances of the two deaths are being described as highly unusual.

Both men died of gunshot wounds at their homes. Neither family has been willing to discuss the occurrences in detail, Toffant said. On the advice of State's Attorney Nicholas Byron, the sheriff is withholding the specific contents of notes believed to have been left by Mr. Weiss.

It is known that Toffant launched an intensive investigation into the LaBott slaying, having pledged in his successful campaign for sheriff office to upgrade law enforcement and also to discourage such crimes as murder by seeking to solve all that occur. The Toffant administration now has cleared up the only murder occurring since the new sheriff began his duties, but he stresses, "We got a big break."

The two families were acquainted and friction developed between them, Toffant said Wednesday. The apparent Weiss confession has been verified by related information that the investigators have uncovered—and all except Mr. Weiss have been absolved, the sheriff added. No motive for the anger against Mr. LaBott was indicated in the notes, it was learned.

Mr. LaBott was wounded twice with a .22-caliber pistol in his home on Friday evening, Feb. 16, and was dead of wounds above the left eye and in the right side of the chest when found at the foot of the basement stairs when his wife returned home from playing bingo at St. Elizabeth Church.

The victim was 56 years old and lived at 59 Janine Court. There was initial speculation that he might have surprised a burglar in the home. But he was not robbed and had in his possession about $500 in cash and cashier's checks for $14,000. There were no signs of a struggle, and nothing seemed to be missing, although two drawers in bedroom furniture were found open. There were no obvious signs of forced entry to the residence. A local resident 12 years, Mr. LaBott owned and operated the Granite City Roofing and Supplies, 331 Lake Drive. He is survived by his wife, Maria, and one son, a brother, a sister and a grandchild.

Programs vs. buildings a $1.9 million dilemma

Because Granite City schools received $1,900,000 less in 1975-76 than they were entitled to receive in state aid, Supt. Bob J. Davis said Tuesday night, the district faces either a cutback in instructional programs and quality, or a reduction in the number of school buildings.

Supt. Davis said at a public hearing in the South High auditorium that, "as noted by Board President Donald Stucke in his opening remarks, the purpose of tonight's hearing is to give you, the public, an opportunity to express your view regarding a proposal to close three elementary schools in Community Unit School District 9."

"The three schools under consideration are McKinley Elementary, 22nd and Iowa, Stallings Elementary, 4401 Highway 162, and Washington Elementary, 2800 W. 20th St."

"This proposal has come about as a result of many factors that have affected this school district over the past several years, the three major factors being: (1) declining enrollments, (2) underfunding of state aid, and (3) inflation."

"For the past several years, the district has attempted to curtail costs through natural reductions in staff—by not replacing the retiring or resigning employees where possible and by the dismissal of first and second year staff members as enrollments declined."

"Since 1973-74, the district has reduced: five administrative-supervisory staff, 42 teachers, six custodians, 21 cafeteria workers and two secretaries. Some staff had to be added, but the net result has been a reduction of 62 positions.

"The district has also initiated other cost-reducing steps including self-insuring and reductions in purchases of capital outlay items and supplies."

"During this period of time, the state has increased its aid to Community Unit 9. However, the increase granted by the state from 1975-1976 was approximately $1,900,000 less than that to which the district was entitled. This is close to the amount that the district is projecting as its accumulated deficit in this year's budget."

"I should at this time state that our local legislators have supported full funding for the schools and have been most cooperative in working with us. Inflation, of course, has added substantially to the money problems."

"School districts across Illinois and family, has been hard-pressed to keep up with the spiraling costs."

"Inflation has counteracted cost-saving steps and thus reduced their effectiveness," the superintendent told the gathering of over 500 persons.

"Unless the district takes further steps to curtail expenditures or increase taxes, it will find itself in a financial condition that would be unacceptable to all concerned."

"Since the district can no longer hope to meet the increasing deficits without curtailing either programs and staff, or buildings and staff, it becomes necessary to set priorities."

"School districts across Illinois and across this nation are faced with the same problems as Community Unit 9 and are taking similar steps."

Arrest two in South Roxana

Steven M. Jones, 21, of 54 Kaseberg Park, Pontoon Beach, and Steven E. Simpson, 22, of 3909 Edgewood Ave., were arrested in South Roxana at 12:01 a.m. Friday and were charged with felony possession of marijuana. South Roxana police alleged a car driven by Jones violated a stop sign and when the officer began to follow the car, something was thrown out a window. The auto was stopped and Jones was asked what had been thrown out and allegedly said it was marijuana. Police recovered a large canvas bag containing 3,500 grams (nearly eight pounds) of marijuana from the side of the street. Felony informational documents alleging possession of marijuana were obtained from the Madison County state's attorney's office, which set bond at $50,000 each. Jones also was charged with a stop sign violation.

The Lighter Side

First grass of year sighted

I have actually seen grass, for the first time in months. I looked out of my window and saw it.

Of course, it was all brown and squashed against the earth. But it has to be a sign that spring cannot be far off. Ah, spring. The thought of it makes my heart soar. No more snow and ice, no more freezing half to death. Spring.

I can get my pretty little coat out of the layaway and put away all of my heavy sweaters. I am so tired of my clothes weighing more than I do.

The boys can escape the confines of the house and I can run the bulldozer through their room. How marvelous to see their carpet again. Of course, the back yard will flood again, but I'm so used to that yearly occurrence that it doesn't even faze me anymore. I will simply rope off the entire area and put a "Off Limits" sign across it. Soon it will be time for me to take my yearly trek around the yard to check out the damage that winter has wrought.

There will be trees to trim and new grass seed to sow. And I really should finish painting the house. Looks weird.

I don't intend to do any spring housecleaning. The weather just gets too wonderful for any of that nonsense. I think I will find some entertaining things to do out-of-doors and save the house chores for the hot weather, when I have to close up the house again anyway. No, I'm not going to do anything "drum drum" this spring. I am going to do fun things and save the unfun things for air conditioner time.

I hope you are all looking forward to the "sweet, warm days as much as I am, and I hope you will get out and take some time to enjoy them.

I mean, after all, good old hot sticky summer will be here before you know it.

Weapons charge against woman

A disturbance at 12:25 a.m. Saturday at a home in Venice resulted in a woman being arrested and booked on three charges.

Police said Maxine Coleman, 26, of 205 Weaver St., allegedly refused to return keys to Albert Jones of Venice and began fighting with Jones and another man after officers arrived at the scene.

Mrs. Coleman declined to provide information at police headquarters and was searched. Two knives, one in each of her socks, allegedly were found.

Charged with carrying a concealed weapon, resisting arrest and disorderly conduct, she was released at 3:20 p.m. Saturday on payment of $105 cash bond to return for a hearing March 16.

Two injured at Rt. 3-Pontoon

An accident at West Pontoon Road and Route Three at 9:20 p.m. Sunday involved vehicles operated by Stanley M. Valencia, 32, of 2517 Pine St., and John E. Heath, 71, of 1728 Delmar Ave.

Both were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Valencia was admitted with abrasions and a bump to the forehead and a cut to the right knee.

Heath, who suffered pain across the shoulders and in the neck area, had X-rays taken and was released. He was charged with failing to yield the right-of-way at an intersection.

TAKE $200 IN TOOLS

A large toolbox containing wrenches, sockets and other tools, valued at $200, was stolen from the pickup truck of Richard Buckingham, 10 Watertown Court, while the vehicle was parked at Granite City Steel's 16th Street Gate lot on the east side of Madison Avenue. The wing window had been opened and the thieves also punched the ignition switch into the dashboard.

budget is devoted to salaries for personnel of all types, approximately 82 percent. This is true of most school districts.

"To substantially reduce expenditures, staff must be reduced. And to reduce staff to any significant degree, buildings or programs must be phased out."

"It has historically been the district's philosophy to retain programs when and where possible. To retain programs, both curricular and extra-curricular, leaves the closing of buildings as the only clear option."

"By consolidating staff and pupils, reductions can be made and major programs retained. Buildings provide a place in which to house pupils and programs. However, pupils and programs are what really constitute a school district."

"In considering its recommendation to the board, the administration looked at all levels, kindergarten through 12th grade. It was concluded that any one of the three buildings, or any combination of those mentioned earlier, could be phased out at this time. Other closings may have to be considered in the future."

"In a report given to the board at the Feb. 20 meeting, it was noted that savings of $197,000 to $748,000 could be realized if one or more of the proposed buildings were closed."

"Following are the proposals presented to the board:

"McKinley — Those pupils now attending McKinley who live west of Madison Avenue between 16th and 23rd streets would attend Emerson School."

"McKinley and Emerson pupils living north of 23rd Street would attend Niedringhaus."

"McKinley pupils living north of 23rd and west of Washington Avenue would attend Niedringhaus."

"McKinley pupils living in the 14th Street area would be bused to Lake, as would pupils from Edwardsville Road to Omaha between 20th and 21st streets."

"All other McKinley pupils would attend Webster."

"All pupils from Kirkpatrick Homes would attend Marshall, including those presently attending Webster School."

"32 would go to Emerson, 308 enrollment total).

"24 — Lake (294).

"59 — Niedringhaus (433).

"37 — Webster (382).

"94 Webster to Marshall (397).

"Washington — All Washington pupils would attend Logan with 5th and 6th grade pupils being housed in the north wing of Prather Junior High. This group would have their own entrance and would begin school after the junior high pupils are in class and would leave prior to junior high dismissal. Those pupils living over 1½ miles from Logan and Prather would be transported."

"Logan (414), Prather (152).

"Stallings — Stallings pupils living in the Jones Park and Quiet Valley areas would be assigned to Mitchell and all other Stallings pupils to Nameoki."

"133 to Nameoki (485).

"128 to Mitchell (490).

"It is the intent of this recommendation to control operating costs without extensively curtailing curricular or extra-curricular offerings to the pupils of this district."

Cooper suspended, Stoller being sued

Two developments have followed Sunday's conviction of former Madison County sheriff John Maers, Capt. John Cooper and Leland Stoller in federal court.

Cooper has been temporarily suspended from the sheriff's department and Stoller has been sued by Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott for overcharging seven agencies a total of more than $43,000 for promotional work.

Cooper received notification of suspension without pay from the sheriff's department Monday and a hearing was held this morning before the Sheriff's Merit Commission, which voted to continue the case until March 22.

Current Sheriff Emil Toffant said he presented the basic federal indictment upon which Cooper was convicted, as evidence that Cooper is a convicted felon and should not remain on the department.

Merit Commission members are Clyde Donham of Roxana, president, Joe Gruenfelder of Highland, vice-president, and Erwin Pledge of Belalto, secretary. Donham could not attend today's meeting. Cooper was present, represented by his attorney, H. Carl Runge.

Stoller was named in a civil lawsuit filed in Sangamon County Circuit Court in Springfield yesterday, alleging he overcharged the seven police agencies a total of more than $43,000 for promotional work.

Stoller, president of Lee Stoller Enterprises, Madison, Tenn., could legally collect up to 25 percent of proceeds, after expenses, but violated the Illinois Solicitation Act by retaining at least 30 percent, after expenses, Scott's suit charges.

Stoller was convicted Sunday of racketeering for allegedly giving 10 percent of monies raised for the Madison County Deputy Sheriff's Association to Maers. Funds were raised through dances advertising books for the dances and publication of a drug book, testimony indicated.

Stoller's contract with the now-defunct deputies' association called for him to receive 75 percent of all funds raised and then to pay all expenses from his portion. The deputies' association was to receive 25 percent.

The lawsuit is based on financial reports Stoller filed with the attorney general's office and on records from nine fund-raising events held for the seven agencies.

Stoller's solicitations in Madison County are not included in the suit.

It seeks to recoup alleged overcharges to the following organizations: Macon County Sheriff's Employees Association, $14,945 and $1,244 for separate events; Sangamon County Deputy Sheriff's Association, $4,386; Peoria County Sheriff's Police Benevolent Association, $8,435; Deatur Police Benevolent Association, $2,674; Fraternal Order of Police of Champaign, $1,016; Rock Island Police Lodge, $6,778 and $2,078 for separate events, and Tazewell County Sheriff's Benevolent Association, $1,800.

Bizarre

The gun used in the slaying has never been located. But authorities found 22-caliber bullets in Mr. Weiss' clothing, and believe they match the bullets that struck Mr. LaBott, thus linking the two men who had become angered with each other.

It is felt by investigators that Mr. Weiss may have concluded that they were "closing in on him" in their review of the LaBott case, but they actually were far from solving it at the time, they commented.

It is known that Mr. Weiss, 65, remained at his home at 2444 Angela Drive at about 8 a.m. Thursday, Feb.

22, while his wife, Bertha, went across the street to work as a baby-sitter at a neighbor's home. He was not discovered until she returned home at 1 p.m. that day, but is thought to have died during the morning.

A shotgun evidently was fired twice, and the victim is thought to have missed his target on the first attempt. A string device was used to discharge the gun, and a window was broken by pellets, Toffant confirmed.

Mr. Weiss was on his bed and the shotgun appeared to have been aimed upward from the floor toward his chest.

When it was fired a second time, he was fatally wounded in the chest.

A retired carpenter, Mr. Weiss was pronounced dead at his home at 1:45 p.m. Feb. 22. An inquest is pending.

He was born in Granite City and was a lifelong local resident. Besides his wife, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. William (Mary Ellen) Ferguson of Granite City, a brother, Albert Weiss of Port Lauderdale, Fla., and one grandchild.

Services were held Saturday morning at a Granite City funeral home, and burial was at Sunset Hill Cemetery.

very severe groundwater conditions and related problems in this area.

"The input provided by those here tonight and at other meetings will determine if the project is to continue."

Six Corps of Engineers planners, who served as facilitators for small group discussions, summarized their findings at a reconvened plenary session and reinforced the statement made by Astrack on the severity of area problems.

Although some questions related to specific fields of concern to the individual participants and involved differing locales, an overall picture emerged to reveal the same types of recurring problems throughout the region of the two studies, Madison and St. Clair counties.

Flooding was the overwhelming concern, whether the condition exists from excessive groundwater — water being retained beneath the surface level — or from overfill-filled drainage ditches and blocked culverts, erosion, hillside runoff, or malfunctioning pumping stations and floodgates with mechanical problems, sediment, mud and debris.

Also of major importance to those present were the length of time it takes to complete studies and get construction under way, apparent lack of concern by public officials said to be "passing the buck," and status of Horseshoe Lake and its relative unavailability for use as a recreational facility. The impact of development and improper land use, adding to already untenable water problems, including construction of a new section of Interstate 270; a lack of reservoirs to pool water, particularly in the Granite City and Cape Girardeau areas; and other issues, came in for their share of proposals, described by the audiences as vital to any future improvements in the study area.

The participants in discussion groups were as diverse as the areas they represented and this added much to the input of ideas, the planners stressed.

People were assigned to groups at random, according to a letter on a blank name tag, distributed to those registering at the general meeting in the North High cafeteria.

The method turned out to be successful. It separated people from the same region, enabling others to hear about conditions in different sections, and afforded each an opportunity to speak in the 50-minute group sessions.

And, the people spoke. Some, happily, but growing with conviction of "what's wrong" as the discussions progressed. Most group sessions ended with comment, "There's not enough time."

programs for the gifted children. McKinley has quality teaching and it has caring. If children are transferred, will high achievers be kept with other high achievers, and will average students be kept with average?"

Paul Sarizan commented, "This is disgusting. Are you going to close McKinley and give it to the hospital? In the last 15 years, Granite City already has closed an elementary school and a junior high. I thought the state lottery tickets were supposed to go to schools. Where is that money going?"

Larry Melton said, "I went to McKinley and I know at least one board member did. I don't know how well he did there. How many of the school board members' children will be affected by this move? By closing these three and eliminating personnel, will this balance the budget? Don't everyone speak at once to answer that. Could you instead close the Board of Education office at 20th and Adams? If you close the three, will be solving it? I think now. You've said the number being cut back, but how about the number of employees that will be added. If this is the type of board that we have, I can understand why we are in the shape we are in."

Sandra Guenther said, "McKinley has a fine reading system that may not be found at other schools. At Emerson there would be larger classes. Last summer, you put a new roof on McKinley, and Emerson has a leaking roof."

Nelson Dunlap asserted, "I went to Emerson and checked, and I am against this transfer. We don't need new taxes. Where has the money gone? You're doing a poor, lousy job. The school board members are not getting paid, and we're getting out of them about what we've paid for."

Pat Withers recalled attending Nameoki School, Frohardt when it opened, Niedringhaus, Central and Colidge within a span of five years, adding, "I question the safety on the buses. Some are operated recklessly." William Skinner said, "My daughter at Webster already has 32 in her class. If you close school buildings, they are likely to be vandalized and to deteriorate. The teachers have said their dues but are now going to be axed. When you think of all the money wasted by the federal and state governments, it's clear we should give higher priority to money for the education of children."

Wilma Bowen told the board, "Stallings enrollment has dropped only because the children in Pontoon Beach have been split apart and shipped to schools in Granite City. We are more than large enough in number to warrant our own school. We suggest enrolling 850 at each of the Coolidge and Prather junior highs, with the Grigsby building used as a Pontoon Beach area school housing 752, including 242 from Stallings, 100 from Mitchell, 110 from Nameoki, 143 from Lake and 157 from Frohardt."

Donald Gargac said, "Stallings has enough children to fill two schools, except for redistricting that sent some to Lake and Frohardt. I recall that you voted last year that Stallings would remain in operation. You should consider closing Johnson School and send those students to Mitchell, Nameoki and Frohardt."

Paula Massey said, "This is like a nightmare. Last year you cited reasons why Stallings should continue. You had a number of meetings where our questions could be answered. This year, with three schools to be closed, you're giving us only a week and yet we're not giving us enough time. And don't forget that when you merged with the Stallings district in 1950, there was a gentlemen's agreement to build a new Stallings school."

Donald Patrick urged provision of a grade school for the Pontoon Beach area rather than the present fragmentation into five elementary school zones. "The neighborhood, centered around the school. The school district is one of the best in the state but it has not yet lived up to the understanding that it would replace Stallings with a better school," he commented.

Pontoon Beach Village President David Moss, speaking as an individual, said some of the financial squeeze could have been avoided had the school board acted decisively before this to control costs.

He added, "Stallings is unsafe because children are 12 feet from a highway in the front and 50 feet from railroad tracks in the back. The railroads carry volatile materials, and a derailment could occur. You have many half-empty schools, and should have closed some of them. Teachers are going to want raises, and are we going to have the same situation as the long St. Louis school strike? The schools are either going to have to cut down on buildings or get rid of personnel."

Mrs. Dickinson dies at 76

Mrs. Bertha Dickinson, 76, of 2432 Terminal Ave., ill five days, died at 6:16 p.m. Wednesday at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

A native of Sandusky, Ill., she had resided in Granite City for 32 years. She was a member of the Pentecostal faith.

Her husband, Ray Dickinson, died in 1965.

Survivors include three sons, Jack Dickinson, Sorento, Ill., and Jerry and James Dickinson both of Granite City; six daughters, Mrs. Norma Turner and Miss Agnes Dickinson, both of Granite City; Mrs. Betty Ridgway and Mrs. Sue Matthis, both of Lawton, Okla.; Mrs. Lois Beach, Cotville, Tex.; and Mrs. Linda Brown, Decatur, Ill.; one brother, Adolph McDonald, Granite City; two sisters, Mrs. Beulah Miller, Fort Myers, Fla., and Mrs. Mary Brown, Granite City; 28 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Call special meeting of GC Council to 'unblock' streets

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler today called for a special meeting of the City Council at 7 p.m. Friday to appropriate funds for filling street potholes and picking up litter.

Schuler cited dangerous conditions to motorists and pedestrians and said he feels the city street department has been slow to alleviate dangerous conditions.

The mayor said he will rent trucks and hire temporary drivers and workers, if necessary, to remove tree limbs and fill potholes, unless the street department will accelerate its work. "I don't care who does it, I just want it done," the mayor said this morning.

One example he cited was on Johnson Road just east of the Nameoki Drainage Ditch where a water company excavation is blocking part of the westbound lane and tree limbs are blocking part of the eastbound lane, reducing the busy street nearly to one lane at that point. "I want to disclaim any responsibility for that," Schuler said.

Another area is on Nameoki Road where children going to Nameoki

School must walk into the busy street to get around a pile of limbs. He said "I am confident about that situation failed to get city action until Schuler asked permission from the Teamsters' business agent to do the work."

Street Supt. Lionel Portell could not be reached for comment this morning.

Administrator faces charge

U.S. Attorney Gerald Fines Tuesday charged Nancy M. Reeves, 29, Wichita, Kan., former administrator for the Madison County Housing Authority, with embezzling $1,161 from the authority.

A one-count indictment against her charges she converted to her own use seven checks between July 1977 and Jan. 10, 1978, totaling $1,161. The Federal Bureau of Investigation conducted the probe into the allegations.

Maximum sentence, if convicted, could be 10 years in prison and a $100,000 fine. An arraignment date is to be scheduled.

Mrs. Kerch, 90, dies today

Mrs. Mildred (Porterfield) Kerch, 90, of 3008 Yale Drive, an active member of the First United Presbyterian Church and local civic organizations, died at her home at 5:55 a.m. today.

She was born May 10, 1888, near Sidney, Ill., in Champagne County, the daughter of Millard and Isabelle Cole Porterfield. In 1891, the family moved to Fairmont, Vermilion County, where her father started a bank.

Mrs. Kerch graduated in 1908 from the University of Illinois, and while a student there she was a member of Chi Omega Sorority and Phi Beta Kappa, and was president of the Woman's League.

In 1911, she married Walter Kerch of Freeport, who died in 1933. They came to Granite City to live and both became members of the First United Presbyterian Church in 1911.

Mrs. Kerch was active in many of the church organizations, including the United Presbyterian Church, and was a Sunday School teacher and church organist for many years.

She also belonged to the Etude Music Club, and was a member of the Ladies Coterie and Bay View Reading Club during her early married life.

Mrs. Kerch was secretary of her church, and was a member of the University of Illinois class of 1908, serving in that office from 1928 to 1933.

Survivors include a daughter, Miss Barbara Kerch, Granite City, retired physical education administrator of the Granite City School District; a son, Richard W. Kerch of Granite City, vice-president of R. Dron Electrical Co.; three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Car crashes into ditch and burns

Gary Dugan, 24, of 2325 Rife Rd., was injured at 10:20 p.m. Wednesday when his car, southbound on August Avenue, crossed East 23rd Street and through a Granite City Steel chain-link fence and went into a deep concrete drainage ditch, catching on fire.

Granite City fire trucks, a rescue unit, and an ambulance and a tow truck were summoned to the scene and Dugan was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he was admitted with abrasions to his forehead and left cheek and injuries to his chest and right hand.

He told authorities his car's brakes failed as he approached the stop sign on August at East 23rd.

Three boys, ages 12 to 15, face possible burglary charges after removing several stuffed animals from a home at 2013 Rock Road at 11:35 a.m. Tuesday.

Mary Lou Summers, 2623 North St., owns the house which was burglarized. There were no signs of forced entry.

A neighbor called police and said three boys had just left carrying bags of stuffed animals. Police checked and found an English textbook inside the house which had no boy's name in it.

A crossing guard said the boys tried to sell him a stuffed animal. Another man supplied the name of one of the boys.

Officers went to the home of one of the boys, and alleged the three were hiding inside. They were taken into custody to talk to juvenile authorities.

Two stuffed animals were recovered from that home. One boy was taken to the Madison County Juvenile Detention Home at Edwardsville, and the others were released pending appearances before a juvenile officer.

Questions why operating costs at the Granite City sewage and secondary sewage treatment plant have soared annually since 1975 were asked by Granite City Second Ward Alderman Fred P. Schuman Jr. during Tuesday night's city council meeting.

Schuman showed the council figures he has compiled, showing that the cost of chemicals alone have increased 444 percent, from $17,843 in 1976 to $97,176 in 1978.

Insurance has increased 261 percent. Utilities have gone up 192 percent and equipment maintenance has risen 165 percent, Schuman said. The cost of gas and oil also rose 135 percent between 1976 and 1978, he reported.

pollution plant superintendent, reported the increases are primarily due to higher costs for chemicals, fuel and other necessities. But he said some of the increase is due to failures of the new equipment which required "experimenting" with different amounts of chemicals to reach a proper

He also noted that the secondary sewage treatment plant began operations in early 1976, which account for lower figures for the early part of that year.

FLEES FROM MAN

While a 10-year-old girl was walking to school near Leyden Avenue and W. 28th Street Monday, a man stopped her and asked if she wanted a ride. She replied, "No," but the man started following her and she ran away. He was between 20 and 25 years old, of medium build, with short black hair. He was wearing a blue shirt and white trousers.

Mrs. Malin dies at 81

Mrs. Clara E. Malin, 81, of Benld, mother of a former Granite City resident, died at 10:25 a.m. Sunday at St. Francis Hospital, Litchfield, Ill. She had been ill for one year.

She had resided in East St. Louis for many years and moved to Benld in November 1978 to make her home with a son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ford (Mildred) Alger, former local residents. Alger is a buyer for the Nestle Co. here.

Mrs. Malin was born in Kentucky in 1897. She was a member of Rosemont Baptist Church, Washington Park.

Other survivors includes two daughters, Mrs. Juanita Woodard, Long Beach, Calif., and Mrs. Ruth Lauerma, Trenton, Ill.; a brother, Glendall Davis, Lincoln, Ill.; 17 grandchildren and several great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Malin was preceded in death by her husband, Arch F. Malin, a daughter, Mrs. Elsie Ingles; one son, Glenn Malin, a grandson, Robert Alger, and a great-grandson, Ricky Cline.

Services were held Wednesday afternoon at a Belleville funeral home. Burial was in Lakeview Memorial Garden Cemetery, Belleville.

Pedestrian hurt

Four-year-old Ryan King, 2134 Ohio Ave., was injured when he apparently ran into the side of a slow-moving pickup truck at West 22nd and Ohio at 4:50 p.m. Tuesday.

Gerald Connor, 2903 Harding Boulevard, driver of the truck, said he was westbound on 22nd Street and was just leaving a stop sign when the boy ran north on Ohio into the truck.

Ryan's parents took the boy to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he was admitted with a large bump on his forehead and an abrasion to his right knee.

Senior citizens to be entertained with '20s show

Alpha Phi Omega, a service fraternity at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, will present a program entitled "A Day at Big Daddy's Casino" at the Granite City Township Building on Sunday, March 4, at 2 p.m. All senior citizens are being invited to attend.

Theme of the day will be that of the "roaring '20s." Fraternity members will be dressed as gangsters and flappers.

The program will consist of musical numbers performed by the fraternity band, several solos and short sketches, dancing, and a skit about "Big Daddy's Casino," written and performed by the students.

In keeping with the "speakeasy" theme, all guests are to use the password "Joe sent me" upon entering.

Alpha Phi Omega presented a program for the senior citizens last year and was invited to return. Also helping this year will be members of the "St." church school class of Niedringhaus Methodist Church.

Clark infant is stillborn

Kelly Jo Clark, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald (Christy) Clark, 2137 Dawn Place, was stillborn at 11:09 p.m. Monday at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Other survivors are a brother, Kevin Kim Clark; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lester Skelly, Madison; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel G. Clark, Granite City; and a great-grandmother, Mrs. Martha Dykes of Marissa, Ill.

Gravestone services were held Wednesday. Details are given in the obituary column.

CHILI DAY SATURDAY

The Mitchell Presbyterian Church will hold a chili dinner and supper Saturday from 11:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m.

BIG DADDY'S CASINO will be among the highlights of a fraternity show to be presented to Granite City senior citizens on Sunday.

Parent and student orientation at South

Parents of eighth grade students who will be attending Granite City High School South in the future are being invited to an orientation meeting on Monday, March 5, at 7 p.m., beginning in the school auditorium.

James Dumont, principal, said, "Both parents and our future students attending will learn about the program and courses available at South. They will be able to have any questions clarified, and find out about the school's policies, procedures and guiding principles."

The evening will begin with a general session in the auditorium and then there will be three 20-minute time periods in which parents and students may attend topics of most interest to them.

The discussion topics and the room numbers are: art 131, business education A205, English 225, foreign language 207, home economics 214, industrial occupations 215, mathematics 123, off-campus programs 129, science and health 119, social studies 129, physical education and athletics 115, driver training 137, guidance and counseling in the auditorium, band and vocal music 141 and speech A150.

School administrators will be in the auditorium to answer individual questions of parents and students.

Sandra Kopsky, a South guidance counselor, is coordinating the program for the incoming freshmen and their parents.

Pool repairs are Paddlers' topic tonight

The 22nd annual meeting of the Paddlers Swim Club was held at the Elks Club.

Four new members of the board of directors elected were Jim Chomko, Richard Bills, Al Lewis Jr. and Marvin Fussell. Josie Diak was re-elected. All were named for three-year terms.

Officers for the coming year were elected at the February board meeting: Jerry Range, president; Don Lane, executive vice-president; Bob Bocherer, vice-president of finance; Tom Bridick, vice-president of operations; Josie Diak, vice-president of membership; Barbara Birccher, treasurer; and Vicki Jacobs, secretary.

The board unanimously voted to call a meeting of the general membership tonight at the St. Elizabeth Church cafeteria.

The purposes are to discuss needed repairs to the back pool and to select a final plan to pay for the repair.

For information regarding membership, residents may call Josie Diak, vice-president of membership, at 452-7372.

FORUM

Will board yield to sentiment— or defend educational programs?

To the Editor:

After attending the public meeting of the School Board and parents concerning the possible closing of three Granite City schools, I was amazed at the apparent lack of concern being shown by the taxpayers and parents of our city.

There were approximately 20 people speaking in opposition to the closings, nearly all of these being parents of children attending the three schools in question.

Some of their opposition seemed to be valid, but for the most part they were emotional appeals to leave the schools open because "my kids love it there" or "my family has attended this schools for three generations."

Sentimentality! We cannot afford sentimentality—literally. Our pocketbooks are being stretched to the limit these days just to pay for food, clothing, gasoline and the exorbitant taxes we are already paying. We cannot afford another tax increase. There are many local people living on fixed incomes, and they cannot afford a tax increase. Yet, the board says the money is not there.

We cannot afford to cut educational programs, either. We want our children to have the same advantages tomorrow that our children are being given today.

Every facet of our educational system is important for a well-rounded education. Yet, the board says the money is not there. Only two people voiced approval of the closing of these schools. And the rudeness shown them was appalling.

Taxpayers, parents, are you going to sit idly by while three groups of well-organized, sentimental parents once again convince the School Board to maintain these three aging schools and their staffs while there are empty classrooms all over town that are costing you money?

Are you willing to spend $748,876 again next year to keep these three schools open, and let your children's learning centers, music programs, etc., be eliminated? Wake up, we can't "have our cake and eat it, too!"

The board plans to make its final decision on March 6. Before they meet, please sit down and write them a letter stating your approval of the closing of these schools or contact the members of the School Board personally.

If you show no concern now, you will be paying more taxes, or your children will be paying in a loss of educational programs, in the near future.

Readers, can you afford this? Can your children? MRS. FAYE HESTER

Herman Fielder dies at 93

Herman Fielder, 93, of The Colonades, a 42-year resident of Granite City, died at 2:17 a.m. Wednesday at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Mr. Fielder was born in Austria and was a coal miner here 40 years. He then was a messenger for the Bank of St. Louis before retiring. He was a member of St. Joseph's Catholic Church. His wife, Mrs. Rose Fielder, preceded him in death Dec. 18, 1973, and a daughter, Mrs. Genevieve Moss, died in June 1978.

Surviving are a son, Rolland A. Fielder, of Granite City; three brothers, Louis Fielder of Detroit, Mich., Edmund Fielder of Pasadena, Calif., and Joe Fielder of Price, Utah, and five grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

SIU Press founder dies

Funeral services for Vernon A. Sternberg, 63, founder of the Southern Illinois University Press, will be held Friday at 10 a.m. at a funeral home in Carbondale.

Press since 1956, he was dead on arrival at Carbondale Memorial Hospital at 4:05 p.m. Monday shortly after suffering a heart attack while shoveling snow at his home, 411 S. Poplar St., Carbondale.

Well over 500 titles were published by the University Press under Sternberg's direction. The publishing division of the university, which has an associate office on the local campus, is widely recognized as one of the foremost presses in higher education in the United States, a spokesman said.

Sternberg was a consultant to the National Endowment for the Humanities. He was a Naval officer in World War II and had been associated with scholarly publishing at the University of Wisconsin and the University of North Dakota before joining SIU. A native of Wisconsin, he received bachelor and master degrees at the University of Wisconsin. Survivors include his wife, Jean Marie, and a son, Jonathan. Visitation is scheduled from 6:30 to 9:30 tonight.

Andrew J. Kochman, professor in the School of Fine Arts and Communications at SIUE and a longtime friend, will direct the funeral services. Burial will be private.

VACANT MADISON RESIDENCE BURNS
Fire damaged a vacant home at 1827 Collinsville Ave., Madison, at 7:18 p.m. Monday. Madison firemen were at the scene until 9:20 p.m.

A spokesman said the fire started upstairs in the two-story frame home, but the cause is unknown. The house is believed by firemen to be owned by Mrs. Mary P. Pischel. No damage estimate was made.

MS drive Saturday

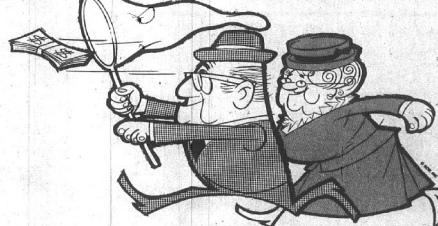

Local volunteers will be calling house-to-house Saturday, Sunday and Monday seeking financial support for the National Multiple Sclerosis Society. David Fox, chairman of the local drive, said, "The cause of multiple sclerosis is unknown and there is neither a prevention or cure. The Society needs and deserves our support in order to continue research into the cause and cure and to maintain patient services in the area."

Lots of people are wondering if they should lease. This year, over half a million will decide they should. To find out if leasing is right for you, check out the hard, cold facts with us—the local member of Chrysler Leasing System. If leasing is right for you, we'll tailor a lease to your specific requirements. But if it isn't, we'd be just as happy to sell you a car.

Washington too valuable to close

To the Editor:

The School Board announced last week that our District Nine financial deficit is to the point that something has to be done. Their recommendation was to close three community grade schools and move these students into other schools.

One reason for the financial deficit was that promised state funds, our tax dollars—are not going to come. State legislators and Governor Thompson are cutting budgets, they cited as reasons the money will not reach our school district.

I feel that these three schools should not suffer the whole burden of reducing cost. All the schools in this district combined share this responsibility for this financial deficit. Therefore, all the schools should bear their part of the burden of reducing the deficit.

Also, the School Board and parents could put more effort toward changing state legislation and Gov. Thompson's decision to not send the promised money to our district.

The School Board members are well informed and dedicated individuals trying to solve our problems, but not all alternatives have been thoroughly considered.

The proposed school closings will not only seriously affect the well being of our children, but it also will affect their educational opportunity.

It also will affect school attendance during the extremely bad weather winter months in this area. Since district money is allocated in part by attendance, this creates more problems.

Burgener heads security chapter

William J. Burgener, 2812 Madison Ave., has been elected president of St. Louis Chapter 39 of the American Society for Industrial Security (ASIS), with national headquarters in Washington, D.C.

Burgener was born and reared in Venice and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie (Barbara) Burgener of Venice.

He is currently chief of security for ACF Industries, 2800 Dekalb Ave., St. Louis. The 150 members of the St. Louis chapter are all in security management at various industrial plants.

A U.S. Marine for 10 years, Burgener was a security guard in Rome and London for the U.S. State Department.

He was an Ohio police officer for seven years and formerly was personnel manager for Interstate

WILLIAM BURGENER

Security, Kansas City, Mo. Burgener was named "top cop" in Clermont County, Ohio, being cited not only for excellence as a police officer on duty, but for active efforts to inform the public on drug abuse through schools, church groups and civic organizations.

Ice damage to trees, plants

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
Area Horticulture Adviser

Ice and heavy snow caused a lot of breakage to landscape evergreens. Gradual browning of a single limb or occasional limbs will call for action.

Ice and heavy snow protected landscape plants by insulating them from icy blasts and zero weather. But extra snow from sidewalks and snowdrifts from the roof produced breakage and splits.

When gradual browning of a single limb appears, carefully cut the limb back to the split.

If a big hole results from your emergency pruning, you can soften that effect by additional pruning. Prune out selected top limbs to lower the profile of the plant.

As you lower the profile of the entire plant, the original hole will be less conspicuous. During the summer, the surviving limbs on the top of the plant and along the edges of the opening will make an extra spurt of growth because they are exposed to continuous sunshine.

Within a year, new growth will take over the nearby open areas to restore the original beauty.

Extra fertilizer is not necessary when the nearby lawn is adequately fertilized. If your plants have not performed to your expectations, fertilize each plant at the rate of two tree spikes for large evergreens and one tree spike for smaller evergreens. Do not put the spikes closer than 18 inches to the stump.

CB Club hears Ted Todoroff

The regular monthly social meeting of the Emergency Service and Relay Organization (ESRO) was held recently at the Madison Recreation Center.

Ted Todoroff, Madison County Emergency Services and Disaster Agency Coordinator (Civil Defense), addressed the group concerning citizen's band (CB) radio's role in Civil Defense, plus an outline of the future developments in civil defense and the possible service the club could provide in emergencies.

In honor of Valentine's Day, the club celebrated with music provided by several members. Refreshments were served to those present.

The next meeting, open to the public, will be on March 15 at 7 at the Madison Recreation Center.

WARRANTS ISSUED FOR SIX CHECKS

Complaints were signed by two business firms and warrants were issued Monday against a Granite City man who allegedly made purchases in January using checks drawn on a defunct account at the American Heritage Bank.

Trattler's Men's Store, 1326 Niedringhaus Ave., said two checks totaling $85 were received Jan. 27 and Jan. 29, reported cashing four checks, totaling $44, earlier in January on the same account.

REPAIRING TREES

Decisions and procedures regarding ice-damaged trees are the topics of two meetings planned for March 7 and March 8.

Four speakers will present information on all aspects of evaluation of damage, physical repair of damaged trees, insurance and tax credits, and selecting a replacement.

Two of the speakers own their own tree service companies, and will handle their assignments from the viewpoint of a firm providing a service. All of the speakers will form a panel at the end of the program to answer questions and form a "braintrust" on theoretical situations.

The same format will be presented at both meetings. The meetings are scheduled at 7:30 p.m. at the following locations:

March 7, Edwardsville, Farm Bureau Building, 900 Hillsboro Road (Route 157) on the northeast side of town.

March 8, Granite City, Nameoki Recreation Center, Pontoon Road at Franklin Avenue, ¼ mile east.

Nameoki Road (Route 203).

BURGLAR TAKES CASH
A burglary at the Cut and Curl beauty salon, 3 Nameoki Village Shopping Center, netted $150 in cash and a quantity of jewelry from a display case. Mrs. Margaret Scott, owner, told police Monday the money was taken from a cash register. Entry to the shop was gained by breaking a window.

DeMOLAY SWEETHEART selected by the James Stuart Chapter to reign this year at various DeMolay events and programs is Miss Lee Ann Baker, center foreground. Standing are Cindy Anderson, second attendant, Mrs. Lisa Jones, the former Miss Lisa Smith, past DeMolay sweetheart, and Tracy Dimock, first attendant. Formal coronation ceremonies were conducted at the annual sweetheart dance held during the weekend at the Masonic Temple.

CAR FORCED OFF ROAD
Jimmie T. Atkins of East St. Louis told police Saturday night that his northbound auto was struck and forced off the roadway on Route Three, near W. 20th Street, by another vehicle headed in the same direction. Atkins' car traveled across the approaching lanes of the highway and struck a guard rail. The driver sustained injuries.

$1,200 DAMAGE IN FIRE AT MITCHELL
The Mitchell fire department was called to the home of Alan Young, 809 East Chain of Rocks Road, at 7:20 p.m. Sunday when a fireplace overheated, causing an estimated $1,200 damage to the inside of the house. There were 12 Mitchell firemen at the scene for 20 minutes, according to Fire Chief Lee Paul.

WEAPONS CHARGE
Bradford K. Cross, 25, of 2505 Adams St., was charged with unlawful use of a weapon at 4:40 a.m. Friday when a 16 gauge pump shotgun, containing five live shells, allegedly was confiscated from the front seat of his auto at the Jack-in-the-Box Restaurant, 3330 Nameoki Road. Cross said he was carrying the gun for protection.

Miss Lee Ann Baker DeMolay sweetheart

Miss Lee Ann Baker was crowned as the James Stuart Chapter's 1979 DeMolay sweetheart by Mrs. Lisa Jones, the former Lisa Smith, the reigning DeMolay sweetheart, during the chapter's "sweetheart dance" at the Masonic Temple during the weekend.

Lee Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Baker, 1605 Wellington Drive, is a sophomore at Granite City High School North. She is a junior princess for Bethel 45.

For the coronation march, Mrs. Lisa Jones was escorted by Paul Clindard, master counselor; the DeMolay sweetheart, by senior counselor Brad Lane; Miss Dimock by Chaplain Geoff Wofford, and Miss Anderson by preceptor Rod Jackson.

Music for the march and the dance was by "Paragon." The DeMolay Mothers' Club served refreshments.

GC school secretaries name $500 award winner

Laurie Lynn Webb, a senior business student at Granite City High School North, has won the Illinois Association of Educational Secretaries' scholarship award of $500. It was announced Monday night at a meeting of the Granite City Association of Educational Secretaries at Marshall School.

Miss Webb will receive the award at the IAES spring conference, scheduled April 20 in Mount Vernon.

Norma Roney, president, conducted the business meeting and named Karen Sedlar, Granite City High School North secretary, as chairman of the nominating committee for 1979-80.

Members of her committee are Marge Burge, secretary to Frank Kraus, Zoe Mitchell and Lucy Stucke. North high secretaries, and Nancy Rosales, secretary at Marshall.

Mrs. Roney read a request from the Eastern Seal Society asking for volunteers to serve on "Lily Days," March 23, 24, and 25. Several indicated they would be willing to serve.

Volunteers from the association served as helpers at a public hearing of the Granite City school system held Tuesday evening in the Granite City

High School South auditorium.

Following the business session, Mrs. Rosales, program chairman, introduced Leigh Heller, physical education coordinator, and Dot Bailey and Susan Smith, physical education teachers, who instructed the secretaries in some basic exercises and discus topics.

Ann Johnson, physical education teacher at Parkview School, was a guest.

Hostesses Lucille Caban, Alice Campbell and Millie Dent Beaver and Lillian Barton; nursing homes; Dorothy Miller and Opal Orrell; nursing homes; Dorothy Miller and Opal Orrell; nursing homes;

Greet pastor's wife

Christine Stenitzer, new president of Ladies-In-Action, welcomed Mrs. Paul R. (Evangeline "Vangie") Bower, wife of the new pastor, at a meeting Monday evening at Briarcliff Pentecostal Church.

Mrs. Bower expressed appreciation to the women, who had arranged a grocery shower for the Bower family upon its arrival here from Roseville, Calif.

She also gave the devotional, discussing four instances from the Bible in which women played significant roles in influencing events and those around them.

Mrs. Stenitzer appointed new committees for the year, reviewed the progress of a candy-making project, and displayed a quilt made by the quilting group.

Committee members named include:

Approval — Ann Hoson, Phyllis Allen and Dorothy Lakin; ways and means — Marge Glasgow and Mrs. Bower; funeral dinners — Dorothy Smith and Opal Orrell; nursing homes — Dent Beaver and Lillian Barton; and nominations — Vida Murphy, Omie Farless and Mrs. Beaver.

The hostess schedule for the coming months was announced, and the women agreed to ask Rev. Bower to select a new light from the Bible stand, to be purchased by Ladies-In-Action.

Mrs. Glasgow and Mrs. Barton, hostesses, served refreshments and Mrs. Bower was presented a gift.

Tony Leone named top salesman

Marshall School PTA recently sponsored a carnival to raise money for the organization's various activities.

An advance ticket sales award went to Tony Leone, a fifth grader at Marshall. Booths and refreshment stands were operated by the parents and teachers. All of the amusements were designed by members of the PTA.

Cosmetic program at FSA meeting

Commenting that "the two worst enemies of an individual's skin are soap and sun," Mrs. Ethel McCann went on to explain various remedies for skin problems as well as aids in bringing out the best in one's features. Mrs. McCann, Future Director, Mary Kay Cosmetics, assisted by beauty consultants Dorothy Miller and Debbie Petroff, spoke on the subject of skin care Tuesday at a meeting of the Granite City High School North Future Secretaries Association. President Rena Hill presided over the meeting and called for reports from the officers, faculty advisor Linda Haddox, and NSA representative, Charlie Vunovic. Mrs. Haddox discussed the "FSA Olympics" to be held between FSA members of GCHS-N and GCHS-S at South High School on Monday, March 5. The girls taking part in the olympics are to meet in room 205-A at 6:30 and will be assigned to test areas which will begin at 6:45 p.m. Testing will last for 15 minutes, at which time all members will assemble in the vocal room for the fashion and talent portion of the olympics.

Members who enter the baking competition are to bring their entries to school Monday morning during their home room, and they will be taken to South High School where judging will be conducted by the home economic department. Typing, shorthand and spelling tests will complete categories, Mrs. Haddox added.

Mrs. Haddox reminded the members that those who could not attend due to a conflict should notify her so that she would be excused. Three unexcused absences mean an automatic drop from membership, she said. The FSA field trip scheduled for April 17 was discussed. A bus has been hired, and the first thirty members who sign up and pay the luncheon cost will be those who can attend. The trip will last from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., and will include a tour through the St. Louis post office, buffet luncheon at Stouffer's Top of the Riverfront Restaurant, and a tour of the World Processing Center of the First National Bank in St. Louis. The treasury will pay for the cost of the bus, it was announced.

As part of the observance of Secretaries Week which occurs in April, members of the sponsoring organization, the Tri-Cities Chapter, National Secretaries Association, will again this year take senior girls into their offices for a day. The date selected for senior day in the office is April 11. Seniors wishing to participate in this event were asked to notify Mrs. Haddox as soon as possible so plans can be made to accommodate everyone.

Mrs. Vunovic announced that the FSA banquet would be held on Wednesday, May 2, at Roush's Restaurant in Collinsville, at which time FSA awards will be given to the senior and junior girls who have accumulated the most points during the school year. Entertainment at the banquet would be furnished by members of South High School FSA chapter, who will present a skit, "The Unpolished Gem," the president reported.

Jr. Service Club plans lunch and style show

One hundred and three members and guests attended the February meeting of the Madison Junior Service Club, held at the Madison Recreational Center.

The club's annual taste test was held, with each member providing two favorite dishes which members and their guests paid ten cents for each taste. After the meal, the Checkerboard Squares performed.

John Belicoff thanked the club for its donation to the Catholic Youth Transit. A business meeting was held and the club decided to send a donation to the Wilson School PTA to help with some of the costs for their program on child abuse, which will take place in March.

A contribution was given to the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Rape and Sexual Abuse Center. A discussion was held to see if someone from the center could come and talk to the girls in the high school. Donations were also given to the Lewis and Clark Lung Association and the Easter Seal Society.

Other items of business included buying tickets to the Granite City Police and Firemen basketball game, and a thank-you letter was read from the Salvation Army.

Final plans were made for the "Luncheon is Served" program, which will be held at the Madison Recreational Center. A fashion show will be held with wearing apparel from Marilyn's. The tickets are $2.50 for the luncheon and show, with all the proceeds, going to the March of Dimes. Tickets may be purchased from the club members.

Hostesses for the February meeting were Dinah Hudac, Donna Woodward and Linda McMurray.

Church of God rally day set

A "Spring Enlargement" campaign, to promote Sunday School attendance at the Church of God, 1206 W. Pontoon Road, will get underway this Sunday, according to an announcement by Lyn R. Cloninger, Christian Education Director for the church.

Rally Day is the theme for this Sunday and the theme selected for the project, which will end on Easter Sunday, is "That My House May Be Filled," it was noted.

Rev. O. J. Cloninger, church pastor, said Sunday School convenes at 9:45 a.m. to be followed by a worship hour at 11 a.m. There also is an evening service at 6:30 each Sunday, he added.

In conjunction with the promotion a display of sport cars, to be provided by local and St. Louis car dealers, will be held on the parking lot at the church Saturday and Sunday. Other autos in the exhibit will be "hot rod" cars owned by members of the congregation. A pot luck dinner will be served at noon Sunday, Rev. Cloninger announces. He added a special theme week will be featured each week during the campaign.

Plan dinner-theater party

Plans were finalized for a dinner-theater party March 8 for members of the Chapter III, P.E.O. Sisterhood at their regular meeting, held in the home of Mrs. Edwin (Loretta) Reiske.

Mrs. Carl (Betty) Mathias presided over the meeting, which included a program given by Mrs. A. C. Stoeve. The program consisted of a travelogue on ports in the Caribbean. Fourteen members attended.

A TO Z MEETING AT LOVE RESIDENCE

The A to Z Pinocchio club met last week at the home of Helen Love. After the hostess served dessert, cards were played. Honors at cards went to Sue Busch, Lucille Broyles, Helen Krakowicki and the hostess.

Others present were Veronica Kula, Mary Mang, Ruth Kinder, Elsa Bauer and Madeline Wenner. The Wenner invited the club to her home for the March meeting.

Mrs. Naeve is club hostess

A dessert luncheon was served and an evening of cards was enjoyed by members of the Tuesday Evening A. C. B. club. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Lillian Naeve, 204 Garfield Ave.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Elvira Thurber, Mrs. Kathryn Smithson, Mrs. Carolyn Essington and Mrs. Pauline Stevens.

Others attending were Mrs. Penny Osley, Mrs. Ann Geise, and Mrs. Margaret Belt. The March meeting will be hosted by Mrs. Pauline Stevens, it was noted.

200 celebrate 10-4's decade of adventures

Nearly 200 parents, Explorers and committee members attended the eighth annual "family night" of Explorer Post 10-4 Wednesday night in the Madison Memorial Center.

The Explorers, sponsored by Madison Police Unit 110, were celebrating their 10th year of existence as a post.

Cahokia Mound Council President Leo Schermer presented the post charter to Sgt. William "Bill" Papa, president of the sponsoring group.

John Richard Hooks, of Madison, a charter member and former president of the post, highlighted the early years of post activities, recounting everything from survival campouts, and assisting Madison police in contraband searches, to the post's trips to various parts of the United States and Mexico.

Post 10-4 began with six members.

First Vice-President Jason Keiffer, of Granite City, and Post President Keith Sanders, of Madison, presented special plaques of appreciation to:

Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk and Police Board President Ed Ray Dubish, who have been active on the post committee since it began; Officer Gary Marsala, who was chosen committeeman of the year; Mrs. Valerie Gryzwacz, mother of the Senior Squad Leader Ronnie Gryzwacz, for her assistance with the group's trip to Myrtle Beach, S.C.; and Donna Sanders, sister of the post president, who for the past four years has kept the members supplied with home-made cookies on all the group's camping trips, conferences and "super-activities," and during breaks at the Explorers' "haunted house."

An internationally famous explorer, big game hunter and photographer, Dana Brown, spoke to the group about his many "safari land" adventures in remote parts of Asia and Africa.

Brown was introduced by Mike Schaffner, second vice-president of 10-4.

Brown presented with a certificate of appreciation and an official tie tack of the National Association of Law Enforcement Explorers by Post President Sanders.

Madison Police Officer William Weidner, who joined the post at age 14, gave the closing remarks.

Weidner stressed how much the post has meant to him, and said his parents helped him and the post throughout the years by their encouragement and participation in post activities.

Post 10-4 is a law enforcement specialty post that meets on the second and fourth Wednesdays at the Madison police station. It is open to all young men who are in high school or college.

The post was started in September 1969 by W. F. "Mike" Strange, of Madison, who is currently the Exploring coordinator for Madison Police Unit 110. It is also vice-president for Exploring of the Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Xi Epistola Chi ritual classes

Mrs. Andy Thompson was hostess to Xi Epistola Chi Chapter of Beta Sigma Sorority, Monday evening, as plans to hold pledge ritual instruction classes were completed.

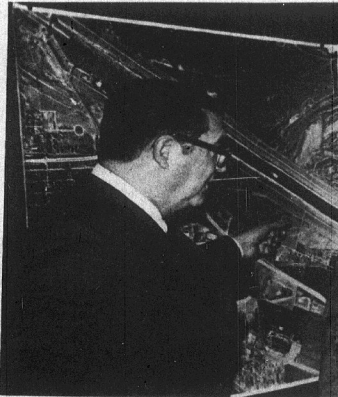

The sessions will be held on the first and third Monday evenings in the home of Mrs. Barb Hente. New members include Terry Asadorian, Sharon Case, and Dorothy Simpson.

Mrs. Linda Koenig was in charge of the business meeting.

Others attending were Barbara Hente, Judy Bartel, Marilyn Lumpkin, Karen Walsh, Barbara Jones, Vicky Thomas and the new members.

Mrs. Helen Hall will host the March 12 meeting, it was announced.

PROGRESS ON TRADE ZONE LEASES is hailed by John J. DaPonte Jr., executive secretary of the Foreign Trade Zones Board, Washington, D.C., during a visit Thursday afternoon to the temporary FTZ office at the Tri-City Regional Port. It is hoped to begin construction on the $1,700,000 Trade Zone quarters in a 120,000-square-foot building in April, and leases so far total 13,000 square feet. Left to right are Harry K. Barr, manager of the local zone, William Duncan, U.S. Customs Service district director, Donald Loso, director of the St. Louis office of the U.S. Department of Commerce, and DaPonte.

Speed drainage program for N. Granite, Briarcliff

Problems which have slowed planning for a major drainage program for the North Granite City and Briarcliff areas received the attention of the Granite City Council Tuesday night as it voted to change firms to do land survey work required for the planning.

City Engineer Monroe F. Brewer informed the aldermen that he terminated the contract with one company hired last year to do the work and has not made any payments on the $3,000 contract.

He said all the work done by the firm had been rejected by the mapping company as inadequate for its planning needs.

The firm of Flagg, Scheibel and Sherbut of Edwardsville was selected as the firm to replace the company whose contract has been terminated. The council agreed to hire the Edwardsville firm at a cost of $3,500.

Jim Sherbut of that firm pledged that the work can begin immediately.

Aerial photos then will be taken by Chicago Aerial Survey for the mapping work at a price of $6,500.

The drainage program is being financed by a grant from the Madison County Community Development office.

Investigate gas station burglary

Granite City police are investigating a burglary this week at the Nameoki Moto gasoline service station, East 23rd Street and Nameoki Road, in which $740 was taken, possibly by someone who had a key to the station and knew the combination to the safe.

There were no signs of forced entry, either into the station or into the safe.

The owner said he lost the keys to the station Monday, but believed he had accidentally locked them in the soft drink machine.

A locksmith opened the machine Tuesday, but the keys were not inside.

ENTER LIBSON SHOP

Nothing is known missing after officials of the Libson Shop, 1321 Nineteenth St., discovered at 8:40 a.m. Tuesday that someone had been in the store during the night and had stacked clothing in several areas. Two large boxes of clothing were left in the basement and stacks of clothes were found on the basement floor and upstairs. The basement entrance had been opened from the inside, probably with a key which was returned to its place after the lock was opened. There were no signs of forced entry.

Shower honors Cheryl Davis

Miss Cheryl Davis, an April bride-elect, was guest of honor at a bridal shower given this week at 3013 National Ave., by her bridesmaids.

Hostesses included Jo Ann Davis, Sheila Orr, Brenda Squires, Paula Orr, Debbie Luntzer and Linda Stroemer.

A yellow, rust and white color motif was used to decorate the buffet and gift tables. After the honoree opened her gifts several games were played and live plants awarded as prizes.

Refreshments were served to 40 guests.

Miss Davis will be married to Rich Schardan on April 28 at the Word of Life Tabernacle.

Cynthia Blackford is guest speaker

A program on breast cancer, given by Cynthia Blackford of the American Cancer Society, was part of the regular meeting of the St. Elizabeth Sodality, held Tuesday night at St. Elizabeth School.

Mardi Gras was the theme of the meeting, which was hosted by the second grade mothers who served refreshments to 54 ladies.

Pam Ames, president, presided. It was announced that the upcoming St. Patrick's Day Dance will be held on March 17. Tickets are now on sale.

The quilt of the month winner was Kathleen Dortsch. The evening prize was won by Carol Trittschuh and the madonna prize was won by Jan Folsch.

Credit Union assets exceed $17 million

Continued progress was reported at the Granite City Steel Employees Federal Credit Union's annual meeting. About 1,500 were present at Granite City High School South for the 37th yearly meeting.

Assets rose more than $1,700,000 during 1978 to reach $17,370,840. Almost a million dollars was paid out in dividends last year — $976,575.

Membership is nearly 8,000, with shares totaling $15,693,145, or $1,521,145 higher than the year before. Nearly $10 million in loans — $9,739,931 — was distributed to members during 1978, bringing the total amount loaned since the group was formed in 1941 to more than $180 million. At year-end, outstanding loans totaled $13,939,555, up $2,546,900 from a year ago.

The 10-member Credit Union staff is headed by manager and assistant treasurer Joe Lucido and office manager Jerry Pakovich. There is an elected 11-member board of directors.

A wide range of financial services is offered from 9 a.m. to 4:45 p.m., Lucido said. "Upcoming soon for members will be a new service offering share drafts. This will permit members to write checks on their shares."

Mrs. Mathews succumbs

Mrs. Martha M. (Reynolds) Mathews, 65, of 3 Iris Court, died at 10:50 a.m. Monday at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where she had been a patient for six days.

A native of Illinois, Mrs. Mathews had resided in Granite City for 34 years.

She was a member of Central Baptist Church. Her husband, Fred Mathews, died in 1975.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Ronald (Marcia) Christensen, Granite City, and Mrs. Delmar, (Ruth) Tipton, Kampsville, Ill.; one son, Francis, Steven Kurtz, Ellsberry, Mo.; three brothers, Louis Reynolds, Paris, Calif., William Reynolds, Niota, Ill., and Claude Reynolds, Riverside, Calif.; three sisters, Mrs. Anna Schieper, Niota, Mrs. John (Grace) Wilkerson, Ellsberry, and Mrs. Howard (Wanetta) Chestnut of Jacksonville, Ill.; 11 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

Jack Lee Angle, 42, dies

Jack Lee Angle, 42, of 2329 Cardinal Ave., became ill at home and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he died at 2:45 a.m. Tuesday of an apparent heart attack and a half hour after being admitted.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Barbara (Mann) Angle; one son, Terry L. Angle, Granite City; a daughter, Miss Sherri L. Angle, residing at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee (Margaret) Angle of Granite City; and one sister, Mrs. Lloyd (June) Cann, Granite City.

Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

SUES CHILD CENTER

A two-count lawsuit seeking $50,000 in each count has been filed in Madison County Circuit Court against Happy Day Child Care Center, 24th Street and Grand Avenue, and First Assembly of God Church, which houses the center. The suit was filed by Carolyn Lynch on behalf of her daughter, Sarina Lynch, who was five years old when she allegedly was shoved into a glass door panel May 30, 1978, and suffered cuts and injuries to a hand, wrist and arm.

The second youth, also thin and about the same height and age, had light brown hair, medium length, and wore a gold colored jacket. A tan wallet, $20, driver's license, identification cards and miscellaneous papers were among the items in the purse.

Charged with beating two

Norman A. Sanders, 29, of 2528 Circle Drive, was charged with two state counts of battery for allegedly beating his wife, Paula Sanders, and their seven-year-old daughter, Rhonda Wilkerson, in their home at 5:20 p.m. Tuesday.

Mrs. Sanders alleged her husband became angry, struck her arms and body with his fists, and then kicked her daughter in the face when the daughter attempted to help her.

Both the mother and daughter were treated and X-rayed at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

A description of Sanders' auto was radioed to area police departments and South Roxana police stopped the car in that village. Sanders was returned to Granite City, where the charges were filed.

PUBLIC HEALTH FAIR

PLANNED MARCH 5-7

A free "health fair" will be held at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for the public March 5-7 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. each day, sponsored as a project by students in Health Education 471, a class studying the organization and administration of school health.

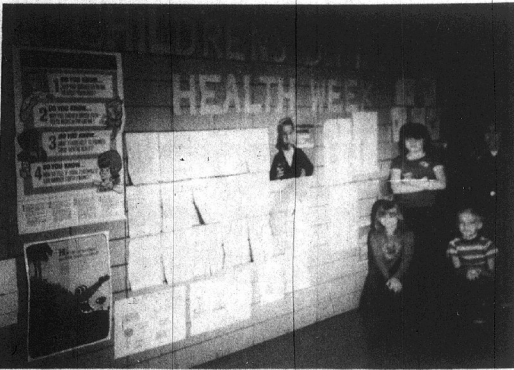

Tables will be set up in Goshen Lounge in the University Center for representatives for community health organizations to provide brochures and other information regarding their services. Screenings for diabetes, heart disease, hearing and speech will be available, as well as demonstrations of cancer self-examinations for women.

TEAM PLANS DANCE

The V & V (Victory and Voloski) softball team will hold a benefit dance for the team Saturday, March 10, from 7 p.m. until 1 a.m. at St. Mary's Engelbert Hall, 10th Street and Washington Avenue, Madison, with music by "The Good Times." Tickets are being sold by team members at $5 per person or $10 couple, and beer and chicken will be served.

ENTER BUILDINGS

A track gang building and a maintenance shed owned by Norfolk and Western Railroad and located at 25th Street and the railroad tracks, were entered by forcing open the doors, it was reported at 4:40 p.m. Friday by a railroad special agent.

DENTAL HEALTH WEEK following a theme of Smile America is observed at Mitchell School. Each student saw films and read material relating to good dental health habits and wrote an essay or created a poster for display. Viewing a hallway exhibit are, front row, Karen Andrews and John Briley. Back row, Melanie Paschedag and Craig Varble.

EYEGLASSES AND HEARING AIDS are being collected by the Granite City Lions in six locations throughout the city. From the left are: Fred Cunningham, office supervisor for Illinois Power, Niedringhaus and Delmar Avenues; Miss Claudetta Gradner, a customer service clerk for the utility company, and Lion Jack Hill, chairman of the eyeglass and hearing aid collection, which will continue through March 21. This is the first year the Granite City Lions have participated in the Lions of Illinois Foundation project. The collection boxes are located at Granite City Trust and Savings, the First National Bank of Granite City, Colonial Bank, American Heritage Bank and the Granite City Township Hall in addition to the Illinois Power lobby.

TRAILER DAMAGED

Someone burned a hole in a plexiglass window and attempted to enter a sportsman's trailer, parked in the rear yard at the home of Brenda McCallister, 2468 Center St., she reported at 10:10 p.m. Saturday.

Tolliver named city comptroller through election

By MICK STRANGE

Press-Record Staff Writer
Jeffrey Tolliver, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack R. Tolliver, 1250 Klein Ave., Venice, was hired by the Venice City Council Tuesday evening as city comptroller for 45 days.

City Comptroller Carl Byrnes, who has worked for the city since May 24, 1962, is retiring.

Tolliver has a bachelor degree in accounting and business administration from St. Mary's University, San Antonio, Tex., and has been working as an assistant accountant at a St. Louis bank since graduating from college.

The time limit of a month and a half was placed in the motion to hire Tolliver by Alderman Tyrone Echols, as the council agreed that the new mayor, after the April 17 election, should be allowed to choose department heads.

Echols is one of three candidates for mayor.

The Rev. John Henry Williams, president of the Madison-Venice Branch of the NAACP, questioned the practice of the council of announcing its meeting as starting at 7:30 p.m. and then staying in a semi-private caucus for an hour or more while citizens attending wait for the aldermen.

Acting Mayor Phillip Daniels told Williams he would check into the ordinance on the starting time and see if a solution can be found.

Williams then invited the council, police and fire departments to participate in a memorial march in honor of the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The event will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday, April 1, with the route to be announced.

Approval was given to Thomas Fields, McKinley Bridge manager, to have about $15,000 worth of repair work done to the bridge.

Fields said expansion joints need repair and work needs to be done on the bridge deck.

The council approved transfer of funds from several seldom used accounts into the general fund.

The fund transfers were from: Main Street Building Fund, $20,000; Veterans Temporary Housing Fund, $16,953; Broadway Sidewalk District One, $1,688; Jefferson Sidewalk District Two, $2,149; Jefferson-Weaver Sidewalk District Three, $482; Partial Payment Sewer and Paving, $7,802; Library Building Construction Fund, $229; Engineers Licensing Fund, $781, and McKinley Bridge Revenue Fund, $21,000.

Questions were raised by various council members on the number of potholes in streets, such as Market Street.

The council was informed by Superintendent of Streets Thomas Scaturro that crews are working on the problem, but that it will take several days to make repairs throughout the city.

SLIDES ON GRAVEL

SUFFERERS INJURIES

Phillip Smith, 16, of 2439 Edwards St., was injured when his car slid on gravel through a stop sign at 26th Street and Washington Avenue and collided with the auto of Barbara Mathenia, 2666 Washington Ave., at 7:50 a.m. Tuesday. He severed his mouth on the steering wheel, suffering a cut to his lower lip and pain in his stomach, and went to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where he was treated and released.

Sex-in-history class

The SIUE department of historical studies will offer three mini-courses during the spring quarter.

Purpose of the mini-courses is to give students an in-depth view of special areas or specialized fields of history. No prerequisites are required, and the courses providing two quarter hours of credit are open to students seeking electives, as well as history majors and minors.

Special Topics (HIST 300-2 Sec. 1) will focus on sex in history. The course will not be a history of sex, but rather a look at sex as a human force in history. Classes will meet Tuesdays from 2:30 until 4:30 p.m. Stanley Kimball will be the instructor.

Special Topics (HIST 300-2 Sec. 2) will center on Joseph Stalin, attempting to explain Stalin totalitarianism in the context of Russian history and socialist ideology. Course-work will also include comparison of Stalin with other 20th Century dictators. Classes will meet Thursdays from 2:30 until 4:20 p.m. Instructor will be Wayne Santoni.

Special Topics (HIST 300-2 Sec. 3) will take a close look at the history of Ireland from the year 1500 until 1790. Classes will meet Thursdays from 6:30 until 8:20 p.m. James Shortall will instruct the class.

Spring quarter registration will be held by appointment only on March 6 and 7 from 8:30 a.m. until 7 p.m. Open registration is scheduled March 8 and 21 during the same hours. All registration activities are held in Meridian Ballroom of the University Center.

Spring quarter classes begin March 26 at 7:30 a.m.

BAEBLER PROMOTED

Arthur G. Baebler has been named executive vice-president of the Regional Commerce and Growth Association by the board of directors. The position is a new one. He continues as general manager of the RCGA, a post he has held since 1974, overseeing staff operations and directing economic development and research activities.

Seek charges against driver

Complaints are to be signed with the Madison County state's attorney's office by Michael Meehan, 2723 Harvey Place, whose car was damaged by another auto at Pontoon Road and Wabash Avenue at 10 p.m. Tuesday.

Meehan said he stopped behind a green car at the stop sign and the auto left, spinning its tires and throwing gravel and rocks at the front of Meehan's auto, breaking the two right headlights and the windshield.

The victim said he chased the auto at high speed to the Cloverview subdivision and through the subdivision, for about 10 to 15 minutes, during which he obtained a license number of the car and was able to see the driver.

The license number was issued to a Division Street man, for whom warrants will be issued if a charge of criminal damage to property is approved.

TRUCK IS LOOTED

While Kevin Pryor, 295 Edwards St., was in a business firm in the 1500 block of Market Street, Madison, for a 30-minute period during the weekend, someone stole a citizen band radio from his pickup truck.

Thorngate Club installs Mrs. June Lux president

Mrs. June Lux was installed as president of the Thorngate Garden Club in a ceremony conducted by Mrs. Patricia Polley at a luncheon meeting held in the Granada Room of the Granite City Army Installation.

As the newly elected officer took her oath of office Mrs. Polley presented her with a white linen handkerchief corsage.

Other officers to serve for the ensuing year include Mrs. Enid Bolan, vice-president, Mrs. Betty King, secretary, and Mrs. Helen Polley, treasurer. Mrs. Lillian Delps who was club treasurer for many years served as pro tem officer as Mrs. Helen Polley is vacationing in California.

The installing officer chose a passage from the book "The Language of the Flowers" to read as she presented each officer with a handkerchief boutonniere.

Mrs. Polley then presented the book to Mrs. Delps in appreciation of her years as club treasurer.

A luncheon was served at tables in a red and white decor centered with a bouquet of red and white flowers interspersed with baby's breath and red foil hearts. Red tapers in crystal holders were on either side of the floral arrangement and each setting featured a red doilie heart with a red and gold leather book mark as a favor.

Following the luncheon, Mrs. Lux conducted a business meeting and appointed committees to serve for the forthcoming year.

She announced the club will host a plant sale on May 13 at the Nameoki Recreation Center.

Attending the event were those named and Mrs. Blanche Neveille and Mrs. Betty Scrum, guests, and Miss Jean Bethel, Mrs. Wanda Kincaid, Miss June Markham, Mrs. Beula Miller and Mrs. Pearl Young, members. Mrs. Miller will host the next monthly session, it was noted.

GC couple marks 33 anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John Petish, 3245 Carlisle Ave., were guests of honor at a family dinner party during the weekend in observance of their 33rd wedding anniversary.

Hosting the event were Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Maylath, 2645 State St.

Other guests included their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Sphar and daughters, Heather Renee and Leslie Jane of Collinsville, and Miss Elsie Maylath, a niece of the honorees.

HONORED AT SHOWER AT THIRD BAPTIST

Third Baptist Church was the scene of a stork shower for Mrs. Walter (Jan) Greathouse Jr., of Glen Carbon, formerly of Granite City.

The shower was given by the mother-to-be's aunt, Jenez Howell, assisted by Cathy McIlvoy, Jennifer Canada, Charlene Cox, Kathy Hagnauer and Janet Davis.

The hall was decorated in pink and blue streamers, with pink and blue carnations set at each table and a small bassinet and doll as the main centerpiece.

Refreshments were served and games were played.

Prizes were won by Millie Greathouse, Debbie Wilson, Linda Aumann and daughter Jodie, Alene Moore, Della Hagan, Dorothy Costello, Diane Davis, Cathy Jonson, Karen Evans and Norma Schmiede.

Others attending were Marie Johnson, Vera Kirkpatrick, Marsha Cox, Laura Hagan, Betty Eggenmeyer, Dorothy Sabo, Carolyn Blind, Karen Kline, Sharon Aleksandrian, Kay Hagan, Sandy Curvar, Robyn Clooko, Claudia Schwendeman, Jerry and Tracy Davis, Verona Monroe, Debbie Heil, Debbie Stein, Dorothy Runk, Lynn Davis, Kathy Kennerly, Lorraine Butler, Irene Louis, Dorothy Harrison, Darla Galbreath, Ann Bickhaus, Marsha Diak, Kandy Melzer, Cheryl Brinkmeyer, Sue Busse, Julie Howell, Marsha McIlroy, Brooke Canada, and Lucille Locke.

MORE THE MERRIER CLUB HOLDS PARTY

The More the Merrier Senior Citizen Club held a Valentine's party with a covered dish luncheon at the Granite City Township Building.

Mrs. Ruby Corbett, chaplain, offered opening prayer, and the pledge to the flag was said by the group.

Luncheon was served to 28 members. A prize was won by Helen Fhiele, and games were played.

The next meeting of the club will be March 8.

Club studies gold rush era

The 1949 gold rush in California was the subject of a presentation given by Mrs. E. M. Arnovitz at the February meeting of Bay View Reading Club, held last week in the parlor of St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ.

She centered her remarks around the story of the Isaac Harding Daniel party that made their way over the mountains to California.

Mrs. Arnovitz also told of the adventures of Horace and Charles Tinker as they journeyed across the plains to the gold fields. The guest speaker reviewed history on those who became wealthy during that particular era by selling needed items and foods to the miners and in reality never worked as a gold miner.

Mrs. Alfred Krumsiek, club program chairman, introduced the featured speaker.

Miss Frances Lynch, hostess for the day, served at 1 o'clock dessert luncheon prior to the meeting.

Mrs. Herman Huxel, president, opened the meeting by introducing guests, Mrs. F. A. Von Gruenigen and Mrs. Roy Barney.

The club collect and pledge to the flag was given in unison by the members.

Mrs. Huxel read a note of appreciation from Robert Slack of the Granite City Public Library, for the club's donation to the Sarah Schorer memorial fund.

Members agreed to recommend Mrs. Jo Meyer for a candidate for the "Women of the Year" award to be given by the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club.

The next meeting will be hosted by Mrs. William Miller, with Mrs. Walter Klein in charge of the program.

Roll call was answered with current events articles and provided topics for discussion.

Others attending were Mesdames Arthur Buentz, Harold Jansen, Russell Johnson, Chris Louis, Lawrence McCauley, William Miller, E. Miller, George Stuart, Elmer Gruen, and Misses Hazel Towerly and Lily Dod.

Chapter honors
Mrs. Hamilton

The Tri-Cities Chapter of the National Secretaries' Association (International) held its monthly meeting at Charlie's Restaurant. It was announced that Harriett Hamilton of Bunker Hill was the winner of the 1979 Lacey Award.

The award is based on a vote of the members based on the "lacy" acronym: liked by all members, active in all chapter projects, cooperative in all chapter events and enthusiastic about NSA in general and the Tri-Cities Chapter in particular.

Lana Randolph, CPS, recipient of the 1978 Lacey Award, presented her with a gold engraved bracelet from the chapter.

Born in Bunker Hill, she is married to Dallas Hamilton. They have a son, Jeff, 17, and a daughter, Joni, 14.

Frederick W. Zerheide, professor of Mathematics at SIUE, was the guest speaker on the Tri-Cities Chapter's program of the year, "Metrics is Coming, Hurrah, Harrah!" Zerheide spoke of a gradual change to metrics during the past ten years, saying the system is simple to learn since "there is no change in dollars or time."

Nancy Bezan gave the invocation. Sixteen members and one guest were present. Jeri Echols, guest of Charlie's Restaurant, is the immediate past president of the Madison PSA chapter and is now employed at a St. Louis bank. The meeting was called to order by President Joyce Savich.

Elaine Goetting was presented with her provisional membership pin. A provisional member is one who has not yet had two years of working experience.

After an additional year, she will become a regular NSA member, at which time she will be initiated. The chapter may participate in the KETC Channel Nine telethon in March. The March program will be on vitamins and makeup.

Chapter initiates

The Beta Nu Chapter of Phi Tau Omega Sorority held its solemn initiation ceremony and dinner at Charlie's Restaurant in Granite City on Monday. Two new members, Miss Betty Whitsell and Mrs. Thelma Gonterman of Venice, were installed. President Mrs. Mary Whitwell and Vice President Mrs. Carol Klug were in charge of the arrangements and ceremony.

The tables were decorated with pink roses, blue forget-me-nots, and tangles of blue and pink.

Other members present were Mesdames Sally Brooks, Jeanne Dorsch, Frances Cowley, Judy Modrusic, Jane Modrusic, Peggy Hinson, Norma Hillmer and Miss Dorothy Hinson.

The next regular meeting of the Beta Nu Chapter will be Tuesday, March 13.

"Nite Song" film
at Victory Church

A film entitled "Nite Song" produced and directed by Russell S. Doughton Jr., for Heartland Productions, Inc., will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Friday, March 2, at Victory Pentecostal Church, 2601 Cayuga Ave., it is being announced by the minister, the Rev. Bobby George.

The film stars Bobby Smith, Tom Hoffman and Vicki Nuzum, and features the title song, "I Will Serve Thee" by Bill Gaither as arranged by Rick Powell of Word Records, the pastor added.

Rev. George extends an invitation to area residents to attend the admission free performance.

Scouts attend
bowling party

Girl Scout Troop 275 held a bowling party during the weekend at Tri-Mor Bowl. The girls were given basic instruction by the leaders and parents present.

LICENSES TO WED ISSUED IN COUNTY

Marriage licenses issued through the office of Miss Elizabeth Morgan, county clerk, Edwardsville, to Quad-City residents:

Kirk Alan Potillo and Janice Elizabeth Morgan, both of Granite City.
Timothy Alan Williams, St. Petersburg, Fla., and Linda Jean Dyer, Granite City.

Larry Eugene McKenzie, East St. Louis, and Ruby Charlene Salyer, Granite City.

GC landmarks is program topic

"Landmarks of Granite City" provided the topic of a slide program presented by Harold Brown, superintendent of parks, at a meeting last week of the National Women's Club.

Brown showed scenes of interest in the community and also of Wilson Park and newly planned parks within the boundaries of the city. He announced the park district was founded in 1921 and now includes 161 acres of ground, which has been utilized to provide playgrounds for children, sports complexes for children and adults, and floral and shrubbery landscapes for the beautification of the grounds.

During his talk, Brown also spoke on recreational programs of the district and the bus transportation project for residents who wish to attend various affairs, the district secures tickets for, and includes transportation costs.

The guest speaker was introduced by Mrs. Marian Shelton, club program chairman. The meeting was held in the Nameki Recreation Center with Mrs. Irma Taylor, presiding.

Mrs. Taylor introduced Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Elsie Branding and Mrs. Helen Krumsiek, guests of Mrs. Pauletta Mueller.

Robert Slack of the Granite City Public Library, sent a note of appreciation to the club for a $25 donation to the Sarah Schroeder memorial fund. He headed the memorial fund is being used to establish a department with informational material on antiques in memory of Mrs. Schroeder.

Prior to the meeting a delectable luncheon was served by hostesses Mesdames Claudia Lentz, Ertha Johnson, Maxine Maas and Doris Greve. In keeping with Washington's birthday they served a cherry custard.

Members attending included those named and Mesdames Emmett Beeler, Hughes Blake, Elmer Branding, J. C. Byers, Harold Caldwell, Wilford Cooley, Lucian Dressel, Ray Horn, Harold Jensen, Hugh Krause, Lawrence McCauley, Louis Meek, Emil Mueller, James Stuart, Dawson Wade, Fred Werner, Bonnie Karandjeff, and Misses Lily Dod, Lucinda Huck, and Hazel Towery.

A style show will be featured at the April meeting and each member is to bring a guest, Mrs. Taylor reminded the group.

She will speak on "The Woman's Role in Belize." Mrs. Richard Schwenemann, publicity chairman, said guests are welcome and may become members of the organization, a division of the International Program in association with the SIUE-Student Council.

Stallings Cub Pack 98 marks scouting anniversary

Cub Scout Pack 98 of Stallings School celebrated the 69th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America at its blue and gold banquet, attended by over 100 scouts and their guests, including Regional Mennerick, a vice-president of the Cahokia Mound Boy Scout Council.
Cubmaster Don Massie presided and the colors were presented by Webelos Den 1, Den 2 and Webelos Den 4. Prizes were given.

ARREST ON WARRANT
Randy Ifland, 1607 Kirkpatrick Homes, was arrested during the weekend on a warrant alleging failure to appear in court on an earlier charge. His bond was set at $10,000 and he was taken to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville. A sheriff's deputy alleged he stopped a suspicious auto on Route 162 and arrested Ifland, who was driving.

THE WHEEL COVERS
Two wheel covers valued at $140 were taken from the auto of Greg Harper, Rural Route Two, while it was parked at Charlie's Restaurant.

THOMAS FEA JR.

Thomas Fea Jr. ordination Sunday

Thomas N. Fea Jr., 120 Wilson Park Lane, Granite City, who recently was named pastor of the ESIC University Baptist Church in Edwardsville, will be ordained as a minister in a special service Sunday, March 4, at Suburban Baptist Church.
The ordination service will begin at 7 p.m. in the local church, 2500 St. Clair Ave. The public is welcome to attend.

Fea, who is majoring in Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, began his association with ESIC University Baptist Church as a supply preacher in October. On Nov. 12, he was called by the church to be the part-time pastor, and the congregation voted Jan. 21 to call him to full-time service. He is developing plans for a revival at the church April 5-8.

Luebben speaks at banquet of Cub Pack 96

Cub Pack 96 held its annual blue and gold banquet last week. Den 1 had the opening ceremony, followed by a welcoming talk by Cubmaster Bud Charbonnier. Guest speaker Ron Luebben offered prayer.

A history of Cub Scouting was given by District Commissioner Luebben. Awards were given out by awards chairman Bob Glasgow. Recipients were Webelos Eric McCrory, wolf, bear, engineer, and Webelos badges. Kevin Haddock scholar and Webelos, Mark Pickler scholar and artist, James Wright, geologist, scientist, forger, naturalist and sportsman, Kevin Bronsman geologist, naturalist and outdoorsman, Todd Burkey Jurester and Darrell Young, showman and Webelos.

Rank and head awards went to:
Den 1 — David Allen, Scott White, Mike Charbonnier, Stephen Howard, Craig Glasgow, Doug Hale and Larry Dalhaus.

Den 3 — Robert Doneff, Jonathan Foreman, Jeffrey Jarett, James Grote and David Gasparovic.
Special awards were presented to Webelos leaders Bob Young and Clay Haddock, Den 1 leaders Harriet Glasgow and Linda Hale and Treasurer Phyllis Pickler. Appreciation awards were presented to Assistant Cubmaster Rich Howard, Den 2 leaders Jerry Turner and Marie Cann and Carol Beyer, and Den 3 leaders Norma Foreman and Marsha Wirtz.

A magic show was presented by Mike Lackey of St. Louis.
Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Luebben and PTA board members.

DEADLINE ON TAXES

Thursday, March 1, is the deadline for some farmers and commercial fishermen to file their 1978 federal income tax return and pay any tax due. Affected are persons who earned at least two-thirds of their 1978 gross income from farming or fishing and did not file a declaration of estimated federal individual income tax by Jan. 15.

Venice destroys Lovejoy; Madison waiting for title

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

FREEBURG — Venice High School stayed on its collision-course with arch-rival Madison here last night with a crushing and surprisingly easy — 80-63 victory over another old foe, Lovejoy High of Brooklyn in a first round game of the Freeburg Class 1A Regional.

Venice will play Dupont tonight at 7:30 in a semifinal game. The winner will face Madison Friday for the championship.

It took some firepower from the bench for Venice much to the dismay of Lovejoy. That firepower came from guard Darryl Jones who came off the Red Devils' bench to spark the team and score 15 points.

"Darryl's performance was absolutely crucial," said Venice Coach Perkins. "He started pushing the ball down the floor when it was needed. He kept his cool."

It was ironic that Jones helped spark Venice to the victory. He transferred to Venice High this school year after playing last season at Lovejoy.

Perkins again praised the fiery little guard. "He's a smart player," he said. "When he's open he'll take the shot, but he's really most valuable as a ball-handler."

But by no means was it a one-man show. Venice's one-two punch of Donald Gardner and Ron Salmond contributed 41 points to the effort — 20 by Gardner and 21 by Salmond.

Salmond, who also transferred from Lovejoy to Venice this year, was intimidating on defense. "He did a super job on their (Lovejoy's) inside game," said Perkins. "I think he really intimidated (Eric) Watkins."

Watkins, a 6'4" power forward averaged 24 points a game going into the contest.

Salmond, a 6'5" center-forward, got the bulk of his points when driving the baseline. "He's hellacious with the ball, isn't he?" said Perkins.

The inside game of Lovejoy has proven to be the downfall of many teams this season — including highly touted East St. Louis Lincoln. But it was shut down by Venice. "We were content to let them (Lovejoy) shoot from outside," said Perkins. "They might be the best outside shooting we'll face, but they can't win a game with nothing but 25-footers."

Early, it appeared as if it would be a nip-and-tuck nail-biter to the wire. Venice led by just one, 19-18 after the first period. "I was afraid going in that the game might degenerate into a sort of street-basketball," said Perkins. "In the first quarter we just traded baskets with them. We had to stop that." Stop it they did... thanks to Jones and Company. The little guard helped smooth things out, feeding the ball to Gardner and Salmond.

"Donald (Gardner) is one of the most under-rated players in the area," said Perkins. "He's got to be our most consistent ball player. He thinks out there on the floor and seems to be in the right place at the right time."

The second quarter decided the outcome of the game. The Red Devils outscored Lovejoy 31-16. "It was probably our best quarter of the year," said Perkins. "It has to rank right up there with our third quarter against Lebanon."

Venice gained its first win of the season in the Freeburg Christmas Tournament with a one-point victory over Lebanon. Since that game, the Devils have won 16 out of 18 games.

Madison-Venice tickets

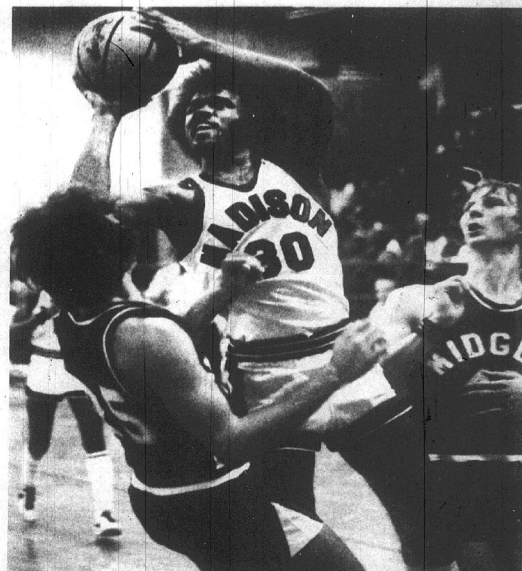

MADISON — Tickets for tomorrow night's championship game of the Freeburg Class 1A Basketball Regional went on sale today at noon in the Madison High School cafeteria for students and continue until 3:15 p.m.

Tickets for the general public went on sale today at 3:15 p.m. in the principal's office at MHS and continue until 5 p.m.

Tomorrow, general public tickets will go on sale in the school's auditorium ticket booth at 9 a.m. and continue until 11 a.m.

Tickets for Venice fans, should the Red Devils win tonight over Dupont and make it to the championship game, will be on sale in the school's main office tomorrow. Prices for all tickets will be $2 for adults and $1.50 for students with proper identification.

The championship game will be played at the Freeburg High School Gymnasium beginning at 7:30 p.m. The winner will advance to next week's Class 1A Sectional Tournament at Vandalia.

Trojans advance

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

FREEBURG — It was cold, wet and nasty outside. But the Madison Trojans' performance inside the Freeburg High Gymnasium here last night was enough to warm the heart of Larry Graham.

Graham, the head basketball coach at Madison, watched as his squad tore the host school apart to win a 73-58 semifinal game in the Freeburg Class 1A (small school) regional tournament.

"I was a little leary of Freeburg going into this one," said Graham. "They already had a game under their belts (a win Monday over Columbia), and this was our first regional game (Madison drew a first-round bye)."

As it turned out, Graham had nothing to worry about. His team jumped out to an early lead and never looked back. "I thought they (Freeburg) had the potential to knock us off," said Graham. "They beat Lebanon last week."

So what Madison annihilated Lebanon by 40 points earlier in the season. The thrust of the Madison scoring attack was evidenced by the fact that four Trojans made it into double figures.

DOWNTOWN GRANITE CITY

Edwardsville downs North

By KEVIN ALLEN
of the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — The game between the Edwardsville Tigers and the Granite City North Steelers here Tuesday featured two very similar basketball teams.

The score reflected this until the fourth quarter when Edwardsville, after trading the lead back and forth with North for the first three quarters, finally edged the Steelers in the final minutes, winning 63-55.

Last minute failures have been common for both Edwardsville and North all season long. Each has had more than its share of disappointments this year and neither team's record, both heavily lopsided on the loss side, accurately reflects the talent on the court.

Steelers coach Bill Ohlendorf agrees with this observation. "We haven't played a really good ball game all year," he said. "We haven't had one game where everybody played well, except maybe Belleville East. But other than that, we haven't played together."

The Tigers could probably say the same thing. They have lost more close games this year than they care to remember, including their last game before Tuesday to Granite City South, 59-56.

It was natural then for these teams to be involved in a close game Tuesday. At least it was close until the waning moments.

It was a 44-43 Edwardsville lead going into the fourth quarter, but after two minutes of play, the Tigers opened up a five point lead. It was the beginning of a dry spell for North that eventually did it in.

When North's Greg Luehman fouled the Tiger's Tom Hansen while he was scoring with a lay-up, it gave Edwardsville the chance it needed to break the game open.

Hansen missed the free throw awarded him, but Tiger Steve Jackson scooped up the rebound, and his basket gave Edwardsville a 56-47 lead with 3:07 to go.

The Steelers, mired deep in their scoring slump, never did regroup, and the Tigers did to North what's been done to Edwardsville all year long.

GC officials working area Class A tourneys

GRANITE CITY — Five Granite City basketball referees are working area Class A (small school) regional tournaments this week.

Vic Buehler and Jim Davis are working games in the Freeburg Regional (where Madison and Venice are entered). Buehler is an assistant principal at Granite City High School North and Davis is a teacher at Grigsby Junior High School in Granite City. Buehler is teamed with Bruce Hill Jr. of East St. Louis at Freeburg's tourney, while Davis is working with Art Abegg from Belleville.

At Waterloo, Granite City's Russ Chappell and Keith Parker are officiating together. Chappell is a teacher and head golf coach at Edwardsville 63, North 55.

NORTH — Greg Luehman 10, Dennis Page 19, Mike Robertson 2, Russ Chappell 16, Tom Greco 6, FG 21, FT 11, PF 11, RB 22, TP 55.

EDWARDSVILLE — Dan Allaria 8, Jay Nilsson 3, Jay Einhaugen 12, Tom Hanson 14, Steve Jackson 22, FG 25, FT 8, PF 14, RB 26, TP 63.

Both teams cooled in the third quarter, but Edwardsville took the lead, scoring 10 points to eight for North. They protected the advantage for the remainder of the game.

'Cats down Cougars

EDWARDSVILLE — The McKendree Bearcats dumped Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville's Cougars here last night 92-84.

The victory was the second straight for McKendree over SIUE this season. Former Venice High star, Mike Henry, led the McKendree attack with 25 points and 13 rebounds. Ray Mosby, a former East St. Louis Flyer, also scored 25. SIUE was led by Jim Allen's 18 points. Guard Kell Peebles scored 16, while Bill Branz, Bennie Lewis and Jerome Nelson each scored 14 points.

McKendree led at halftime 43-42.

V-ball league now forming

GRANITE CITY — The YMCA Coed Saturday Evening Volleyball League will be starting again on Saturday, March 10, at the Tri-City Area YMCA. If you have a team interested in joining, or if you do not have a team but would like to play, contact the YMCA Physical Director, Ed Mercer, at 878-7200.

Madison to indoor meet

MADISON — The Madison High track team will travel to Charleston, Ill. Saturday for the annual Eastern Illinois University Indoor High School Track Meet.

The meet is normally the first meet of the season for many track teams, giving coaches a chance to get a first look at competitors under actual meet conditions.

The meet will be held in Lang Fieldhouse near the gymnasium. Madison finished second in last year's Class 1A (small school) state meet.

Warriorettes explode to defeat GC North

By DOUG IRVIN

GRANITE CITY — The Lady Warriors of Granite City South soundly won the title of the Granite City Cigarette Champions by demolishing the Steelerettes 49-25 Monday at Memorial Gym. Chris Boyd led South's scoring attack with 12 points.

Late in the third period, South experienced some difficulties as both of the team leaders, Boyd and Susan Bell, were out. Boyd had four fouls and Bell a victim of a sprained ankle. Bell is expected back in practice today.

"That's why we only scored six in the third period," said Pat Yates, South's head coach. "Without our team leaders we couldn't do too much."

The Warriors were on top by six before North could rally a point. The first quarter ended with a very low score—4-6, South.

Neither team shot very well in the eight minute time slot. North was only good for three out of 16 shots and South put in three from 15 shots.

South went on top by 12 at halftime, but the score was still 26-14. There came a point in the second period at which the score was tied at 12 all, but South retaliated with 14 straight points to stymie the North Steelerettes.

The third stanza was when South was at a disadvantage—both Bell and Boyd were out and the Warriorettes only made three buckets. However, North did not (could not) take hold of the situation, fortunately for South as they still managed to out tally the Steelerettes 6-5 in the quarter.

Boyd was put back in, in the final quarter and also that was South's best quarter as far as shooting percentages are concerned. South was good for seven out of 13 tosses at the bucket. North, on the other hand, had their worst period—two from 15 shots. Boyd made eight of her 12 points in that final quarter. At the buzzer the score read 49-25 with South joyfully improving their record to 9-2.

"We tried to shake things up—tried to get things going," said Lee Obermuller, coach of the North squad. "We took too many shots and missed too many of those shots and you just can't do that and win too many ball games."

The number of turnovers was large for both teams. South possessed 23 of them

Bad night for girls' teams

GRANITE CITY — Tuesday was a bad night for all three Quad-Cities girls prep basketball teams. The North Steelerettes were beaten by Wood River 59-27, while powerhouse East St. Louis Lincoln took South apart to the tune of 86-17. Madison lost to St. Paul-Highland 35-23.

In the loss to the Oilerettes, Laura McKee was the leading scorer for the Steelerettes with eight points. But that could not offset the 16 points of Wood River's Carol Berry.

South had nowhere to hide against Lincoln. The tough Lady Tigers had 10 scorers and handed the Warriorettes their third loss in 12 games. South's leading scorer was Chris Boyd with seven points.

Madison found the going bad also. The Trojanettes were topped by St. Paul-Highland to see their record drop to 4-6, while St. Paul is 5-8.

and North had 29 turnovers. "I think we were making a lot of frustrated mistakes," said Yates. "We got too reckless and in a hurry—it's been a problem all season. We just give the ball away too easy," said Obermuller.

"South trapped us with the ball," said Obermuller. "They took two on one and we didn't move quick enough to get the ball out."

Both teams have their next game Thursday night. South hosts the Lancerettes of Belleville East at 8 p.m. following the jay vee game and North travels to East's arch rival—Belleville West for a game at the same time.

South 49, North 25

SOUTH—Chris Boyd 12, Susan Bell 11, Katie Becherer 7, Susan Jeffries 8, Nita Graham 5, Terri Schuler 2, and Betty Bulva 4. FG 20-58, FT 9-18, TO 23, and TP 49.

NORTH—Shari Ripka 5, Laura McKee 6, Leslee McIntyre 4, Sue Sigite 4, Kathy Waldo 30, Tina Ethridge 2, and Lisa McKee 3. FG 9-52, FT 7-14, TO 29, and TP 25.

Scouting the preps

No clear favorite in 2A; Class 1A strength in south

By PETE HAYES

of the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — Now is the time.

The small guys have started already and the big guys will next week. It's time for March Madness, 1979.

In Illinois, ALWAYS comes in like a lion. The month is noted throughout the state as time for the Illinois High School Association (IHSAA) state basketball championships. There are three of them now: boys' Class 1A (small school), boys' Class 2A (large school) and the girls' championship series.

Just a few years ago, there was only one state championship series, the boys'. But the IHSAA saw fit to divide the boys into two classes. The 1A school are those with 750 enrollees or less and 2A are those with 751 or more.

But let's turn our attention to the subject at hand...the boys' regionals. The 1A regionals got underway earlier this week and two Press-Record Land teams are involved.

Madison and Venice, two former 1A state champs, are in the Freeburg Regional this week. Each opened its post-season play last night (March 21). The winner of the Freeburg meet might just have a leg up on the rest of the competition at the Vandalia Sectional next week, but by no means will it have an easy road.

The reason is St. Paul of Highland. The Vikings have two victories over Venice this season (by five and three points) and have split with Madison (losing by 10 points and beating the Trojans by three in overtime two weeks ago). If the Vikes are able to get past Lebanon in the Wesclin Regional, they'll be in the Vandalia Sectional.

The winner at Vandalia will move on to the Charleston (EIU) Super Sectional. Its opponent will most likely be either Lawrenceville or Carmi, a couple of teams favored to both Madison Coach Larry Graham and Venice Coach Ken Perkins.

Carmi is Venice's opposition in 1975's Charleston Super when the Devils went on to win the state championship. Lawrenceville is at or near the top of state-wide rankings every year. The Indians have won two state titles and finished third another year.

This year's Lawrenceville crew of Coach Ron Felling is led by #1 guard Dave Brooks. He is averaging 26 points a game for a 19-3 team which owns a one-point upset victory over Class 2A power Olney. Lawrenceville will play in the Bridgeport (Red Hill) Sectional.

Then there's Nashville, the defending 1A champ. Even though the tiny Washington County community is less than 100 miles from this area (about 65, actually), the only time Madison, or Venice could meet the Hornets in tournament play would be in the semifinals at Champlain, Nashville is playing in the Carlyle Regional and will host its own sectional next week. The only team with an outside chance of defeating the defending state champions is Cairo, which will be in the sectional at Nashville. Last year, the Pilots lost a one-point decision to the Hornets in the sectional championship game. The winner at Nashville will advance to the Carbondale (SIU) Supersectional.

In Class 2A circles, things are going to be interesting in Southern Illinois. For the first time in many years, there is no single dominant team to run away with everything. Collinsville has gotten the most state-wide attention and was ranked 16th in the latest Associated Press poll of sportswriters. But the Kahoks, who will face Granite City North in the first round of the Granite City Regional at Memorial Gym, have had trouble putting anybody away. They seem to enjoy making things interesting.

Interesting is exactly the word for the GCHS North Regional. The other two teams involved are Granite City South and Lincoln of East St. Louis.

Most basketball observers in this area agree that Lincoln has probably the most raw talent of any team around. The Tigers, however, haven't been able to put it together with any degree of consistency. They will face Don Deterding's much-improved South squad in the first round of the regional.

South was one of the major surprises in this area in Class 2A circles. The Warriors owned the longest winning streak (9) of any team in the area this season and lost to Collinsville in Vergil Fletcher Gym by a mere four points.

North Coach Bill Ohlenhoff has been riding a team that seems like a roller coaster. The Stealers have at times shown flashes of brilliance, while at other times they haven't shown much at all.

North played Collinsville tough this season, before falling to the Kahoks late, losing to Mascoutah by only one point and defeated Belleville East. On the other hand, North has lost by 20 to Okawville, lost to Tustopolis after leading all the way and fell to Tipton in the Breeze Motor Del Holiday Tournament.

North's poor record this season cannot be blamed on lack of enthusiasm. The main factor in many losses has been lack of height. The tallest Steeler stands at 6'3". The tallest Steeler is known as "Big Boy" as a master tactician. If the first round game against Okawville should happen to boil down to a matter of one coach having to out-coach another, Collinsville's Gene Gelpa will have a prayer.

In other Southern Illinois battles, Carbondale and Centralia will most likely range it to the Benton Sectional, unless Benton's Rangers can put together an upset.

Benton has lost very close decisions to both Centralia's Orphans and the Terriers from Carbondale (currently ranked 13th by AP).

Perhaps the most interesting regional in Southern Illinois 2A will be at Effingham. The host Flaming Hearts and Olney will most likely battle it out for the right to advance to Benton. Olney stands at 20-4 on the season, while Effingham is 20-3. Olney returns every starters from last season's Sweet Sixteen team which lost to Collinsville at Carbondale. Effingham is led by hot-shot sophomore guard Bill Arnold, who is averaging 24 points a game. Olney has lost its point guard junior Tim Jennings to a fractured ankle. However, should the Tigers get to the sectional, Jennings will be able to return to the lineup by then.

Applications ready for Highland 5-mile

HIGHLAND — The course is complete, the date has been set and applications are available for the Highland Lions Club 5-Mile City Run to be held in Highland, Ill. on Sunday, April 22.

The five-mile course will run through the city of Highland. Hundreds of runners, including many of the best amateurs and professionals in the St. Louis area, will converge in the community of 6,000 residents for the Sunday morning run. The run, which has been sanctioned through the St. Louis Track Club, will attract competitive runners and joggers alike. They'll all compete against themselves and the clock.

Men will divide into five classes, 18 and under, 19-29, 30-39, 40-49 and 50 and up. Women will compete in three classes, 18 and under, 19-35 and 36 and up. The run will begin at 10:15 a.m. and registration on April 22 will begin at the Highland News-Leader newspaper office at 822 Broadway at 8:15 that morning. Those registering in advance may do so by obtaining applications at the News-Leader office, the office of Dr. James Behrberger at 1000 Zachokke in Highland, Ill. 62249.

Runners entering before April 16 will pay a $3 entry fee. Those entering after that date will pay $3.50 each. Families of four or more may enter for $10. All runners will receive free commemorative t-shirt and refreshments from Highland restaurants. Winners will receive special trophies and plaques.

Bearcats receive a bid

LEBANON — Coach Harry Statham and his 1978-79 edition of the McKendree College basketball team received a bid to the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) District 20 post-season playoffs, it was announced recently.

The Bearcats, received wild card slot in the playoffs. They will play Illinois Benedictine Saturday, March 3, at 7:30 p.m. in Lisle, Illinois. Other teams in the playoffs include St. Xavier, Chicago State, Quincy and Eureka. With two games remaining on the regular season, the 'Cats post an 18-10 record and are ranked sixth in the NAIA District 20 standings.

Jessee joins YMCA

GRANITE CITY — The Tri-City Area YMCA has announced that Mike Jessee has joined their Aquatic Staff. "We've brings with him many years of experience and many qualifications. He has a Bachelor's degree in Physical Education and has past YMCA experience as a Physical Director, the Tri-City Area YMCA. He is an American National Red Cross certified Aquatic Instructor. He has served on the staff of the Red Cross American Small Craft and Water Safety Committee. Jessee is also the Water Safety Chairman of the Tri-City Chapter of American Red Cross in Granite City. Mike will be teaching at the 'Y' on Mondays and Wednesdays from 4 to 5:30 p.m. The two classes that will directly benefit from his employment are the Follow-up class at p.m. and the Minnow class at 4:45 p.m. The new session starts on Monday, March 5.

Venice

manage to get back to within eight points of Venice twice in the fourth quarter, the Red Devils coasted in with the victory to realize their record to 17-9. Lovejoy bowed out at 11-11.

Venice will play Dupo in a semifinal game tonight at 7:30, with the winner advancing to tomorrow night's championship game against Madison, an easy winner over Freeburg.

Dupo defeated St. Henry Prep Monday night. Are Venice's players looking past Dupo to a possible re-match with Madison? "It's possible, I guess," said Perkins. "But I don't think so. These guys have come too far this season to let that happen to them."

Venice-Dupo game. Are the Trojans looking forward to the possibility of playing Venice, their next-door neighbors? "Oh, I guess so," said Graham. "Dupo's a good team though. It might not be us and Venice."
 Early in the season, Madison defeated Venice by 22 points. But that was before the Red Devils got the services of 6'5" standout Ron Salmund and guard Darryl Jones, transfers from Lovejoy High. Since that time, Venice has been a tougher team to beat, winning 17 out of its last 20 games. "Venice is a completely different team," said Graham. "They could be tough."

Cougars pound Badgers

EDWARDSVILLE — The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville tennis team, defending NCAA Division II national champion, walloped the Badgers of the University of Wisconsin, 6-3, Saturday at the Cottonwood Indoor Courts in Edwardsville. Wisconsin is the defending Big Ten Conference champion.

SIUE will next host the Red Birds of Illinois State U., Normal, at the Cottonwood courts, Sat., March 10.

Juan Farrow got SIUE off to a good start as he romped through the Badgers' No. 1 singles champ, Ken Thomas, one and four. Arjun Fernando, the Cougars' No. 2 player, was even better as he walloped Wisconsin's Rob White, 6-2, 6-2.

Wisconsin pulled up to 1-2 when the Badgers' No. 3 player, Dave Pelisek, defeated the Cougars' Raimo Ojala, 6-7, 6-3, 6-4, in a thrilling three-setter.

Billy Ruskic of Granite City gave the Cougars a little breathing room as he held on to defeat the Badgers' Rhys Thomas, 7-6, 3-4, 6-4.

Wisconsin's Mark Klingelbretz narrowed the score to 2-2 SIUE as he beat Scott Whaley, 6-3, 3-2, retired. Whaley, a St. Louisan, had to pull out because of a pulled muscle.

World Prayer Day Friday

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

Church Women United of the Quad-Cities will sponsor the "World Day of Prayer" program Friday with two services.

An evening service with a special program on Africa will be presented at 7:30 p.m. at the Nameki United Methodist Church, 1900 Pontoon Road.

A daytime service will take place from 12:30 p.m. to 12:50 p.m. Friday at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue, primarily for working people and those who may not be able to attend the later service.

Mrs. Doris Edwards, World Day of Prayer chairman, said.

Mrs. Helen King of Glen Carbon, who has spent four years in Africa, will be the principal speaker at the 7:30 p.m. program.

She directs The Well, a youth center in Glen Carbon, and was in Africa with her husband, SIUE Professor Don King, who was involved in an educational program there.

Mrs. Edwards explained that, each year, women in different nations are invited to write the World Day of Prayer service, based on themes chosen by the International Committee for World Day of Prayer.

She said Church Women United is the officially recognized sponsor of the program in the U.S.

The women of Africa, who are responsible for the 1979 program, have sent a special message to all women everywhere, Mrs. Edwards said.

The message reads in part, "Our warm greetings to all the Christians around the world who are coming together from different places for the World Day of Prayer 1979."

"We hope the voices of the Pan African Leadership Course at Mindolo Ecumenical Foundation at Kitwe, Zambia, will be heard in solidarity with the voices of women in the world as we pray together on World Day of Prayer."

The service for this year was written by students in the Pan-African Leadership Course for Women at Mindolo Ecumenical Foundation at Kitwe, Zambia.

The five-month course trains each year employed by churches,

City buys furniture for police building

The Granite City Council voted Tuesday night to purchase $22,683 worth of new furniture for the city's police facility under construction in the 2200 block of Madison Avenue, between the main fire station and the post office.

Furniture purchases are to be made under the city's federal revenue sharing and civil defense budgets.

The council approved purchase of $6,000 worth of furniture for the emergency operating center in the new police facility with CD funds. Furniture for the emergency center includes 28 chairs, three desks, folding tables, a refrigerator, a microwave oven and two filing cabinets.

Contracts awarded on low bids went to Standard Business Supplies for $1,042, Business Equipment Center for $809 and Commercial Office Products, $1,739.

Chief of Police Ronald J. Veizer noted that the bids for the police station furniture were $900 lower than the amount provided in the budget for furniture, and the emergency operating center furniture, total was only about half of the budgeted amount, or $5,500 below the budget.

The council opened bids for the purchase of a mosquito spraying unit and chemicals for the mosquito abatement program. They were referred to the sanitation committee for study and a recommendation.

The council also approved purchase of $6,000 worth of furniture for the emergency operating center in the new Madison County Sheriff Emil Toffant told the Press-Record Tuesday he is making efforts to improve telephone and radio communications between the sheriff's department and the estimated 55,000 persons who live in unincorporated areas of the county.

Toffant said he has met with officials of Illinois Bell Telephone Co. to discuss the possibility of toll-free telephone lines to the sheriff's department from several areas, including the Quad-City area, and said the new phone lines probably will go into the new Madison County Jail which should be opened within a year.

They said there just isn't enough room in our current setup for more phone lines. But planning is under way for toll-free lines to several areas off the new county jail," the sheriff said.

He added that plans are being completed to put old county band-radios in all county band-radios so residents of this area will be able to reach nearby deputies quickly on emergency channels.

"We understand that it is frustrating to have to make a long-distance telephone call to get help from a deputy, and we are working on solutions for that," the sheriff said.

DONATION OF $1,200 is presented by Mrs. Marcie Johnson, treasurer, left, and Mrs. Cheryl Barton, president of Nu Zeta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, to Potentate Dick Erway of the Anad Shrine Temple. The contribution is for the Shriner's Hospital for Crippled Children. Mrs. Margie Williams, a chapter member, and her husband, Tom, had built and decorated a six-room furnished doll house to publicize the project.

They are Laura Shanks, First Baptist Church, Granite City, and Nancy Hall, Sacred Heart.

Lois Bibbey of Central Christian Church will sing The Lord's Prayer. Fran Holt of Nameki Methodist will serve as accompanist at the piano.

Refreshments will be served after the service by hostesses wearing colorful kaftans, similar in style to those worn by women in Africa, Mrs. Edwards noted.

Earnings, revenue up

Post Corporation earned $4,122,000 or $2.30 per share in 1978, compared with $3,106,000 or $1.74 per share in 1977.

Net revenues increased from $38,875,000 to $56,416,000, according to the unaudited figures released during the week.

The company's broadcast division contributed 63 percent of the firm's operating profit for the year, a spokesman said. The newspaper division supplied 35 percent and the firm's new commercial printing division the remainder.

The spokesman cited continued strong advertising demand in both the broadcasting and newspaper industries as the prime reason for the firm's 34 percent increase in earnings (32 percent in earnings per share).

The firm's 1977 and 1978 acquisitions — a television station in Rochester, N.Y., newspapers in suburban Cleveland, Ohio, and in Lakeland, Fla., and a commercial printing firm in Medina, Ohio, all contributed to earnings, he said.

Post owns and operates seven newspaper groups, five television and three radio stations, and two commercial printing firms. The operations are in nine states.

Post Corporation's board of directors declared a regular quarterly dividend of 12 1/2 cents per share, payable March 30 to shareholders of record March 16.

SUIT AFTER CRASH

Herbert Arthur McCartney has filed a $20,000 lawsuit in Madison County Circuit Court as the result of a Jan. 17 auto accident at Route 3 and Missouri Avenue. The suit is against Alex Skubish and alleges he was negligent and failed to yield the right-of-way to McCartney's auto. It seeks $15,000 for McCartney's injuries and $5,000 for damage to his car.

ECLIPSE OF THE SUN as it appeared at various times during the cycle, of the moon passing between it and the Earth Monday morning. The moon began covering the sun shortly after 9 a.m. central time (picture at left) and progressed to an approximate coverage of 74 percent (center picture) at 10:44. The sun then slowly began to reappear as a full disk. The sequence of pictures was taken from left to right as the moon appeared to move across the face of the sun from right to left. Portions of the Northwestern United States and Central Canada were afforded a view of the total eclipse, the last to be seen from the North American continent in this century. The next total eclipse of the sun, on Aug. 21, 1979, will be seen 70 miles south of here, with the Quad-City area viewing a 98 percent coverage.

DEAN C. DEIBERT

Deibert heads president group

Dean C. Deibert, 17, Highland, has been elected as chairman of the Cahokia Mound Scout Council Explorer Presidents Association. Deibert will assist in planning and coordinating Explorer activities in the local council, consisting of the southern half of Madison County and all of Bond County. He is a member of Granite City Police Department Post 10-33 and Post 79, sponsored by the Ralph Korte Construction Co. of Highland. By virtue of his election, he becomes a member of the council executive board, to which his father, Wayne, also belongs.

Bill Fox of Madison is the adult adviser to the explorer presidents.

World disorder ahead? U.S. must assert itself

Wall Street Journal — Didn't we hear somewhere that if only the U.S. got out of Vietnam the killing would stop?

In the immediate sense, there is little the U.S. can or should do about the new Vietnam war. The Chinese invasion of Vietnam is clearly intended as punishment for Vietnam's invasion of Cambodia.

Intellectually interesting as it was to see Cambodia topple like a domino, it's hard to get overly excited about aggression against so hideous a regime as the one that ruled there.

The Chinese expedition on behalf of its Cambodian client more or less dares the Soviet Union to do something for its Vietnamese client. For once, the U.S. has the luxury of standing back and wishing a plague on all their houses.

In a larger sense, though, continuing warfare in Indochina is another sign of spreading instability in the world. The 1970s are taking on an eerie resemblance to the 1930s.

The current incident in Indochina is reminiscent of the creeping Japanese assaults on China; indeed, of the Soviet invasion of Manchuria in 1929. Cubans and now East Germans in Angola look a lot like Italians in Ethiopia.

Unrest in Iran threatens the industrial world jocular like unrest in the Weimar Republic. The OPEC cartel is the rough economic equivalent of the inter-war issue of reparations and war debts.

Then as now, the leader of the Western world tries to substitute disarmament agreements for military preparedness. At the risk of being melodramatic, today we see the world order coming unglued, and the last time that happened the result was world war.

While the U.S. has little to do with immediate events on the China-Vietnam border, it has a great deal to do with this larger trend.

A generation of world stability was built on the bedrock of American purpose and American power. As this foundation becomes increasingly shaky, the world is threatened with the unpalatable alternatives of Soviet domination or sheer anarchy.

The continued strife in Indochina, for that matter, is especially symbolic. It is one thing to say that it was a terrible mistake to involve American power and prestige so deeply in so insignificant a quarter of the globe. But it is quite another thing to say that American defeat there would be good for the world, or even peaceful.

The "corrupt and inefficient" South Vietnamese government has been sufficed out, the "American puppet regime" erased, leaving behind only the plaintive echo of the boat peoples. But the killing goes on, the only difference being that now the struggle is between competing brands of totalitarianism.

In the rest of the world, meanwhile, American influence fades.

We send the Secretary of Defense through the Middle East to "reassure" our worried allies, but we demonstrate that we no longer have the power or will to defend our own embassies.

When our ambassador is kidnapped, the Afghan regime won't return our phone calls. This is not good for us, not good for our friends, and not good for the people of the world.

The tragedy is that so much of this is self-inflicted.

We were defeated in Vietnam, and it is not feasible to rebuild the kind of military preponderance we enjoyed in the early 1960s. There was bound to be some adjustment to these realities. But we did not have to let the defense budget decline steadily in real terms for years on end.

We did not have to wreck the CIA. We did not have to announce withdrawal from South Korea. We did not have to slight the defense of Taiwan in trading ambassadors with China.

We did not have to leave our embassy undefended in the midst of chaos. Even in Vietnam, we did not have to cut off funds for the South Vietnamese army once our troops were withdrawn.

The spiral into disorder can be averted only if the U.S. starts to assert itself once again.

This does not mean sending the Marines to settle every quarrel in the world. It does mean building the kind of military force we are likely to need in the evolving world, refusing to make unnecessary diplomatic concessions, asserting our rights unapologetically and keeping our promises to allies.

But first, we need to digest the lesson of the current fighting in Indochina. That American power is not the root of evil in the world; that it is more likely to be a force for good.

Illinois legislators need to reduce the number of bills

Press-Record Springfield Bureau — The Rules Committee of the Illinois House heard several ideas last month on reducing the flow of proposed legislation that seems to overwhelm the General Assembly every session. Some want to put limits on the number of bills each legislator can sponsor. Others seek to limit the number of commemorative resolutions, arguing that too much floor time is wasted on such trivialities.

Rep. Doug Kane, D-Springfield, proposes that the House set limits on the number of bills committees may approve. This would reduce the flow, permitting more time for debate and discussions of those that do clear committee.

A serious move is under way by persons outside the legislature to reduce the size of the House by one-third. One of the arguments for such reduction is that fewer legislators would mean fewer bills to consider.

We agree that the volume of legislation is excessive, and we are encouraged that some members of the General Assembly are concerned enough about the situation to try to do something about it.

One of the problems is that, like many citizens who seek ways to get around laws they find restrictive, a number of legislators will likely find loopholes in the rules.

For example, some legislators now introduce scores of bills each session and others sponsor only a few. If there's a limit on bill introductions, the prolific legislators will likely seek out less prolific colleagues to be sponsors. So total bill introductions may be just spread around more, rather than materially reduced.

The same could be true on limiting congratulatory resolutions. Kane's idea of strengthening the role of committees appears to have merit.

The practice of most committees has been to move many bills onto the floor for final consideration, under the theory that unless a majority of the committee considers the bill to be really bad, it deserves to be voted on by the entire house.

The weakness of committees was cited by one legislator, Rep. Tom Hanahan, D-McHenry, as a major reason why he refused to accept appointment to any committee this session.

He said the real action is on the floor — that's where all the deals are made — so that's where he wanted to concentrate his efforts. If the committees could do as they do in Congress, he probably would have felt differently.

Kane told the Rules Committee, "At the end of the session, the House becomes a circus or a zoo, depending on whether the observer thinks we are clowns or animals. We need to slow things down and spend more time discussing fewer bills."

We don't have any easy solution. A combination of several restrictions may be needed to make any effective change in the volume of bills. We hope the Rules Committee and the entire House are concerned enough to give favorable consideration to some effective action.

If they aren't, it's a good bet the voters of the state will view the proposal to cut the size of the House as an opportunity to do what the legislators won't.

Many pupils In Stallings area

To the Editor: As a concerned taxpayer, I agree with the Granite City District School Board's efforts to reduce costs. As a parent, I must take issue with their recommendation to close Stallings School.

Only ten months ago, our School Board voted to keep Stallings School open. Now, the school administrators are asking this same board to reconsider that decision.

As the board members stated before voting, they felt that the school was necessary to serve the eastern area of the district because any future expansion of the area will be in that direction.

There are enough children in the Stallings area to keep the school filled, because

Glad state didn't ratify ERA

To the Editor: Congratulations, Illinois. All 31 state senators who voted on Feb. 14 to retain the legal 3-5 rule deserve both our appreciation and our vote come next election.

The senators were under very much pressure, both "pro" and "anti-ERA." Their final vote in favor of retaining the 3-5 rule was a wise constitutional decision, one that reflected the best interests of the majority of the people in Illinois.

Mrs. Phyllis Schaffly also deserves our gratitude. She gave a most eloquent speech in favor of retaining the 3-5 rule before the entire Senate gathering.

Her non-sensational approach, coupled with her keen knowledge of the constitutionality of the 3-5 rule, did not fall on deaf ears. Mrs. Schaffly did her legal homework well. May God continue to bless her and the "Stop-ERA" movement.

The vote over the 3-5 rule was actually a defeat for the Equal Rights Amendment in Illinois and a defeat for ERA across the country as a whole.

Illinois Power service praised

To the Editor: Thanks, Illinois Power for the emergency service given me Jan. 21 when their crew broke wire leading to the meter. And again on Jan. 25, after repair had been made by a local contractor.

This contractor stipulated "cash on completion," which he received. I am told he did not notify the proper sources that the job was completed. Also, I have been told by an authoritative source that the contractor's charge was too high even in this day of inflation. That contractor will never do another job for me and I hope to pass the word along.

Illinois Power had been told the job was completed until I complained about four hours after the contractor finished work.

IP was here within 30 minutes after my complaint to turn on the electricity. Making an error so late after an IP employee came to see if I had heat.

That's what I call service. Thank you, again, for your help. I am a customer.

Cost factor in some abortions

To the Editor: On right-to-life marches and talks, I am very much against abortion. But their marches and talking aren't helping.

What we need is help for young people. A clinic that will deliver a baby for a price a person can afford to pay.

It costs around $1,500 to have a baby. Your average young couple without insurance can't afford it.

You might say, take the pill. That doesn't always work. Call the right-to-life clinic. All they do is tell you if you are pregnant.

We as a community could have a clinic if our churches and civic organizations got together.

hundreds of children are being bused from this area in an attempt to keep schools in Granite City filled.

Obviously, the school administration's report on closing schools are the criteria used in selecting McKinley, Washington and Stallings.

If this is the approach that they want to take, why didn't they prepare like statistics on all schools in the district? Then, let the board members decide which schools should be closed to achieve the desired savings.

I hope the board members recall the basis for their decision last year, and reinforce that decision by a similar vote this year.

DONALD GARGAC 456 Edwardsville Road

Before calling for a vote, the Senate president, Sen. Phillip Rock, told himself an avaricious pro-ERA supporter — said to his colleagues that "now is the time for ERA in Illinois and that they must take a position."

Those who are pro-ERA will vote simple majority. Those who are anti-ERA will vote for retaining the 3-5 rule.

The senators' final vote in favor of retaining the legal 3-5 rule clearly reflects yet another mandate from the people of Illinois — that we do not want ERA.

In a recent newspaper article, some proponents of ERA even suggested that this "setback sounded the death knell for ERA in Illinois for the next two years."

One who is both anti-ERA and pro-life, I for one will hope and pray that the ERA and all its pro-abortion implications will never again come up for vote in Illinois.

Seven years of defeat is proof enough of its unacceptability. IGNATIUS SHAMBOUR 117 Delmar Ave., O'Fallon

To the Editor: It is time that we at the Humane Department make the people of Granite City aware of the problems we have controlling dogs at large.

We are receiving many complaints from citizens about females with large packs of dogs following. Many citizens are getting so irritated with animals trespassing and running loose that they are taking matters into their own hands.

We at the Humane Department do not authorize this method of coping with these problems. However, if this problem does arise, please contact the Humane or Police departments and it will be taken care of.

For those citizens who are not aware of the animal ordinance, Chapter 21, Article 3, Paragraphs 21-304, 21-315 and 21-301 say:

"Running at large prohibited without muzzles. No owner or keeper of any dog shall permit such dog to run at large any time whether licensed or unlicensed unless such dog shall be muzzled with a device of sufficient strength to prevent its biting any person."

"Running at large: Impoundment. Penalty. (a) Running at large. It shall be unlawful for any domestic animal or animals of the species of horse, mule, cow, cattle, sheep, swine, goat or dog to run at large at any time within the corporate limits of the city."

"(b) Impoundment. It is hereby made the duty of the several members of the police force and of the dog catcher of the city to pick up each and every animal created by him or them unlawfully at large contrary to the provisions of this ordinance, and to confine the same in the City Pound or such other place as may be provided for that purpose."

"(c) Penalty. Any person, firm or corporation being the owner, possessor or keeper of any such animal or animals who shall unlawfully suffer or permit the same to run or go at large in the city in violation of this ordinance shall be subject to the penalty of not less than $10 nor more than $100 for each offense of sustenance for such animal or animals when impounded."

"Dogs shall be intended to mean both male and female. Owner shall be intended to mean any person or persons, firm, association or corporation owning, keeping or harboring a dog."

"At-large shall be intended to mean off the premises of the owner and not under the control of the owner or member of his immediate family, either by leash, cord or chain."

This ordinance will be enforced to the fullest. This is a message to the people of Granite City who let their animals run at large. We are tired of talking about dogs running loose. We have tried discussing these matters with owners, but to no avail.

So now we are going to crack down harder. No longer will we talk. If the animal can be apprehended, it will be. If not, the owner will receive a written complaint against him.

The complaint will state which ordinance is being violated. The owner has 48 hours to comply. If anyone still insists on letting a dog run loose, we will turn the complaint over to the prosecuting attorney for legal action.

Pontoon needs a grade school

To the Editor: All across America, one of our country's strongest fibers has been local grade school systems.

The local small town grade school provides a vehicle for bringing the local citizens together through its PTA and various other activities.

Bringing citizens together, they learn to work, discuss and even to disagree, in a friendly manner, on matters of local education and community affairs.

It has been a question in my mind for some time why our local school district has not provided one centralized grade school for the community of Pontoon Beach and surrounding areas.

Instead, the Pontoon Beach area has been divided into three completely different grade school zones, those schools being Nameki, Mitchell, Frohardt, Lake and Stallings. The children of the Pontoon Beach area are being used to help fill four other area grade schools.

It seems strange to me that children in the Lakeview subdivision are sent to Mitchell School. Across the highway from them, the children in Quiet Valley subdivision are sent to Stallings School. Across the street from them, the children in John Glen Meadows are sent to Lake Grade School.

Three different Pontoon Beach subdivisions, within a mile radius divided by one highway, are sent to three different grade schools.

One question the logic for such decision-making. It has been stated by some that it is the planning of Granite City politics to keep the people of the Pontoon Beach community separated and divided. I would rather think that it may be due to lack of planning, or to insensitivity on the school board.

The question of closing Stallings School is not the main issue in the fight by the people to keep it open every year. It's the fact that it is only grade school in the Pontoon Beach area.

What the people of the Pontoon Beach area need is to have one centralized grade school in the Pontoon Beach area, letting our children in the community attend just one grade school.

agrees that our school and high schools. In Illinois, the average net expenditure per student is $2,084 per year, up substantially over the past few years to adequately fund our local elementary and high schools in Illinois, and where those funds should come from.

Governor Thompson has submitted a budget that provides $81 million more state funds for the schools than last year. However, it is still $90 million less than what has been suggested by the State Board of Education.

To put some of these issues in perspective, the following facts should be borne in mind as we consider these matters in the months ahead:

1. Governor Thompson's budget recommendation for schools represents an 11.7 percent increase over last year — a slightly greater increase than the rate of inflation, even though declining enrollments there are approximately 55,000 less students each year than in Illinois schools.

2. Illinois is now ranked fourth among all the 50 states in the amount spent on each student in our grade school districts in the state and our educational standards are of the highest.

I also feel that whatever decision the board makes — in reference to closing Stallings School and two others — will be made in the best interest of the total educational system.

I would only hope that the people in the Pontoon Beach area, having children attending Nameki, Frohardt, Mitchell, Lake and Stallings grade schools, will attend the public meetings on the subject.

The board is studying closing of three local grade schools, one being Stallings School.

I think the people of the Pontoon Beach area should start letting the School Board members know that school is kept close to the people, at the local level, through the local school boards.

Should the day ever arrive that the state would take over most, if not all, of the school funding, automatically there would be a loss of local control.

I feel local school boards have served us well. Local control is vital. For these reasons, a 50-50 sharing of school costs is as it should be.

While we're not ranked No. 1 in education, we are ranked 11th in the nation, and if we continue to provide our children with this type of quality education — and maintain a balanced budget — the process of local control is vital. For these reasons, a 50-50 sharing of school costs is as it should be.

Appreciates good deed

To the Editor: It isn't always that you will get a story like this but I felt that I must write you.

On Saturday night, Feb. 17, I was shopping at Schnucks in Granite City, and after returning home, I found that I had left a bag of my groceries on the cart out on the lot.

I immediately called to the store and was told that someone had found the groceries and returned them to the store.

I do not know the name of the person that returned them, but God does.

I hope in some way they will know that I am deeply grateful for their good deed, and pray and know that God will richly bless them.

Car jumps curb, two girls hurt

An auto turning south onto Alton Avenue from Edwardsville Road in Madison during the weekend jumped the curb and struck a tree.

The driver, Shirley Meyer, 17, of 1328 Fourth St., Madison, hit her head on the windshield. She was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and was released to see her own physician.

A passenger in the vehicle, Nancy Reed, 17, of 1321 Fourth St., suffered abrasions to the lower lip and right hand. She was released to see a doctor after being treated in the emergency room.

February meeting of YMCA Seniors

Lester Thiele conducted the regular meeting of the YMCA Senior Citizens' Club last week at the "Y" due to the hospitalizations of President Lucille Pierce and Vice-President Mae Findley.

Prayers for the ill and prayers of thanks were offered by Augusta Lampe, followed by the pledge to the flag.

Reports from all officers were given and special thanks were offered to the quilters and women who worked on the showcase and sale.

Lunch and games followed the meeting. Prizes were won by Augusta Lampe, Bob Salein, Grace Paddock and Kathryn Todoroff.

The next meeting will be Friday, March 2, to honor those celebrating birthdays.

LOCAL COMMUNITY SERVICES receive additional clothing and furniture storage space. Shown turning over a building key to Tri-Cities Area United Way Executive Director Albert F. King is Brig. Gen. Aaron L. Lilly Jr. (second from right), deputy commander, Troop Support and Aviation Materiel Readiness Command. Pictured left to right are Tri-City American Red Cross Executive Director Mildred Meehan; St. Louis Area Support Center (former Granite City Army Depot) Administrative Officer Tommy Vaughn; King; SLASC Commander Major James W. Lightfoot; Coordinated Youth Services Executive Director C. A. "Bud" MacMillan; Gen. Lilly; and United Way AFL-CIO Community Service Director Larry Miller.

Developed in 1978, the TCAUW Community Service, Clothing and Household Items Exchange Center is a joint service of the Tri-Cities Area United Way, Quad-Cities Catholic Charities, AFL-CIO Community Service programs, local American Red Cross Chapter and the Coordinated Youth Services. Additional storage, distribution and collection locations are to be developed as needs develop. Over 1000 people were served by the center through December, with some needing aid on more than one occasion.

If each instance of assistance had been made by cash payments, the disbursement required would have exceeded $20,000 in the first months of operation. The participating agencies are to be contacted by applicants; there is no distribution at the Depot site.

Lake PTA hears Dr. Hermsmeyer

Dr. Carl Hermsmeyer of the International National Stress Institute of Collinsville, was guest speaker at the February meeting of the Lake School Parent-Teacher Association. His topic of discussion was parent-child communication.

Prior to this program, business was conducted by Mrs. Louise Ware, PTA president. David Johnson and Mrs. Ann Siebert, co-chairman of the ways and means committee, announced a fund raising project will be featured at the spring carnival on Friday, May 4. Tickets will be sold in advance for a donation of $1 each.

Mrs. Ware announced that Lake's PTA will sponsor a course in CPR (cardiopulmonary resuscitation) if enough interest is shown. Members of the Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department will be teaching the course for the second consecutive year. Those who took the course last year are being urged to take a "refresher," and anyone not having taken the course before are being asked to seriously consider doing so. Affiliation with Lake School is not necessary for course enrollment.

Principal, Edward Gonia, may be reached during school hours at 877-1700 for anyone wishing to enroll. A date and time will be set later, she added.

Mrs. Ware noted that 14 members attended the Area Council Annual Awards Banquet held on Feb. 14 at the Granite City High School South. Awards from Lake's PTA were presented by Pat Withers to Mrs. Siebert and Mrs. Shirley Strain, who received Distinguished Service Scrolls, and to Mrs. Faye Hester, who received a Certificate of Honorary Life Membership and pin.

The Area Council's annual blood drive will be held on Saturday, March 10 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Nameeki Recreation Center on Franklin Ave. Mrs. Ware and Mrs. Helen Schmeissner will represent Lake School at a meeting to be held at the Nameeki School cafeteria on Tuesday, Feb. 27 concerning this.

Mrs. Ware appointed Mrs. Brenda Withers, Mrs. Elaine Grayson and Mrs. Clara Bone to serve on the nominating committee to recommend officers for the 1979-80 school year. They will present their selection at the March meeting for election. Nominations will also be accepted from the floor, the president added.

Mrs. Jean Zotti's second-grade class won the month's attendance banner, and Mrs. Bone was presented the evening's attendance prize.

Following the program by Dr. Hermsmeyer, refreshments were served by second-grade mothers.

BURGLARIZE TRUCK A radar detecting device valued at $100 and assorted tools worth $40 were taken from the pickup truck of Nick Andra, Caseyville, he reported at 4:40 p.m. Friday. The vehicle was inside the Fire Service Station 1420 Niedringhaus Ave., where a burglary occurred Thursday night.

ALLEGEDLY RESISTS SPEEDING ARREST

Eugene C. Goff, 46, of 2015 Rhodes St., Madison, was arrested at 5 p.m. Sunday in the parking area at Bellemore Village Shopping Center for a radar-detected speeding charge.

He allegedly refused to show his driver license and declined to get into a squad car. A second police car arrived and Goff was taken to headquarters and charged with resisting arrest and speeding, being released about an hour later on payment of a $55 cash bond.

An officer saw an auto leave the vicinity of Sacred Heart School at 12:55 a.m. Saturday and followed the car to an address in the 5400 block of Hodges Avenue. While talking with the driver about being near the school building, the officer allegedly detected an odor of marijuana in the vehicle and found three handrolled cigarettes beneath a towel on the front seat.

A clear plastic bag containing a substance allegedly was found in the glove compartment. Bruce S. Lungwitz, 20, of 3112 Jill Ave., the driver, was charged with unlawful possession of cannabis. His companion, a young woman, was released without being charged. Lungwitz was released from custody on a notice to appear.

Life span workshop

The third in a series of workshops on life span development will be held at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville March 9-10, according to Paul Burns, acting director of the Office of Continuing Education. Sponsored by Eastern Illinois University, SIU at Carbondale and SIU, the workshops provide training for teachers, members of the clergy, public service agency personnel, nurses, community college and university faculty, industrial personnel and others working with older Americans.

For the convenience of working individuals, sessions are scheduled from 1:30 until 5:30 p.m. on Friday, March 9, and from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m. on Saturday, March 10, in Room 0306 of Peck Classroom Building.

The third workshop will concentrate on pre-retirement programs, death and dying, social relationships and change, aging and sexuality, and religion. The workshop will be repeated at John A. Logan College near Carverville March 16 and 17. College credit, continuing education units, or non-credit are offered through the sponsoring colleges. Fees are assessed by credit hour and the institution. Registration for continuing education credit or non-credit students is $10 for each workshop.

Replica of Indian city is planned at Mounds Park

By JUDY TAPLIN

A long-range plan for a new museum at Cahokia Mounds Park below Highway 40, the historic site and re-creation of the central city of the Mississippian Indians were unveiled Saturday by the Cahokia advisory board.

The project, an attempt to give Cahokia Mounds the international status the advisory board believes it deserves, could cost between $5 million and $6 million.

Proposed site for the new museum is at the south end of Ramey Street below U.S. 40 on land already a part of the historic site.

If no archeological materials are found at the proposed site, the new museum is expected to be built within the next five years.

The Cahokia Advisory board members indicated re-creation of the central city would be complete in approximately 10 years.

The central city of the Mississippians occupied 150 to 200 acres — from Sand Prairie Lane on the west to the Ramey Street area on the east, and from Monks Mound on the north to near the south end of the existing Cahokia Mounds Park below Highway 40.

The plan calls for palisades to be built around the central city in the exact location the wall existed when the Mississippian culture flourished here.

The Illinois Department of Conservation's master management plan for Cahokia Mounds will include a recommendation that U.S. 40, which now divides the central city in half, be rerouted around the historic site.

The project will mean relocation of persons living in the subdivision south of U.S. 40 adjacent to the existing park. The state is in the process of buying these homes.

The state will provide some picnic space in the museum area. However, the IDOC is promoting use of nearby Horseshoe Lake for most recreation, including camping.

Jack Kowal dies at 82

Jack Albert Kowal, 82, of 141 Hampton Drive, Glen Carbon, a former 50-year resident of Madison, died at 11:30 p.m. Monday at his home. He had been ill for seven months and was under the care of a physician.

Couples announce engagement and wedding plans

Fleming-Diel engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Diel of Edwardsville, formerly of Granite City, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Sheila Diel and Scot Fleming, a son of Richard Fleming of Edwardsville.

Miss Diel attended Washington Grade School before moving to Edwardsville. She attended Edwardsville Senior High School, and is currently employed as a legal secretary with Schmitz and Fischer in St. Louis.

Her fiancé also attended Edwardsville Senior High School. He is employed as a manager for Florsheim Shoe Co. in St. Louis.

The engaged couple is planning a June 1 wedding, to take place at the Mount Zion General Baptist Church in Granite City.

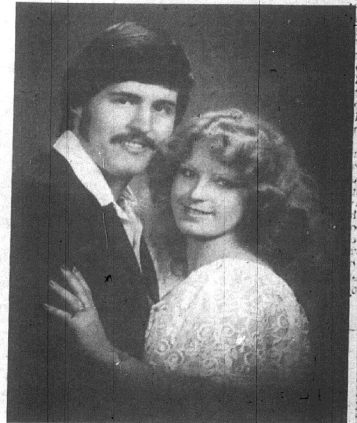

ENGAGED. Miss Sheila Diel and her fiancé, Scot Fleming, are planning a June 1 wedding. Miss Diel is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Diel of Edwardsville, formerly of Granite City.

Miss Wilson bride-elect

A June 22 wedding is being planned by Miss Cynthia Lynn Wilson, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry R. Wilson, 2205 St. Clair Ave., and Michael Allen Leisner, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Magnus Leisner, 3001 Myrtle Ave.

Miss Wilson graduated from Granite City High School South in 1976.

Her fiancé was graduated from Granite City High School in 1971. He served for four years in the U.S. Navy as a hospital corpsman, third class petty officer. He is now attending Belleville Area College, studying in the radiological technology program, and is employed at Oliver C. Anderson Hospital, Maryville, in the radiology department.

JUNE BRIDE ELECT. Miss Cynthia Lynn Wilson and her fiancé, Michael Allen Leisner. They are planning a June 22 wedding. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry R. Wilson, 2205 St. Clair Ave.

Mrs. Campbell gives lesson

Mrs. Pearl Campbell gave the lesson and devotion for the February meeting of the Philathea Class of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

She discussed an article by John Flavel, "How to Meditate on the Providence of God" and read a poem "What More Can You Ask?" by Helen Steiner.

Mrs. Campbell prayed for our sick members, Mrs. Mildred Cundiff, a former teacher of the class, and Miss Geneva Wallis.

Mrs. Mary Ahlvers, class president, was in charge of the business meeting. Miss Ella Ray Smith was appointed to take care of the Elva Miller Memorial Fund.

Hostesses were Mrs. Emma Schoen and Mrs. Lucy Weaver. The dessert luncheon they served and the table decorations were in keeping with Washington's Birthday.

Witnesses' accuracy challenged Shakedown visits described

The unsuccessful defense for those tried in the federal court at Alton during three weeks in February placed heavy reliance on discrediting the accuracy and motives of witnesses called by the prosecution.

Those convicted were former sheriff John Maeras, Capt. John Cooper of the sheriff's department and fund-raiser Leland Stoller and his company.

Attorney Bruce Cook, representing Maeras, also was critical of assistant prosecutor Cass Weiland. And he accused the federal government of knowing since June 1977 of alleged improper activities by witness Gary Lee Burns without halting them. Cook also was critical of witness Ronald Grzywacz.

Cook contended the federal statute of limitations on such illegal activities as payoffs is only five years and that activities cited by the government date back to 1971, 1972 and early 1973.

Maeras, Cooper and Stoller were indicted Nov. 29, 1978, for racketeering, mail and wire fraud and other allegations, which "means the activities must have occurred after Nov. 29, 1973, or you must find all defendants innocent," Cook contended.

"How did the boys in Washington get around this?" Cook asked and said they used a provision in the law which says that if any activities of a corrupt organization have occurred within the past five years, the members can be prosecuted for any activities within the last 10 years.

"They got Gary Burns going around this," Cook asked and said they used a provision in the law which says that if any activities of a corrupt organization have occurred within the past five years, the members can be prosecuted for any activities within the last 10 years.

binds. Stoller, at the very worst, is a victim," he stated.

Cook told the jurors that if they believed the prosecution's case that Stoller gave 10 percent to the sheriff, "He came down here; they shook him down. Now they're going to make him a federal criminal — a felon."

One inconsistency in the evidence cited by Cook was that after Cooper's name was found in a phone book at Myrene's Steakhouse in Alton during a prostitution raid, Maeras asked for Cooper's resignation. "Are you going to fire your bagman? No. He would run to the federal government and tell them," Cook stated.

He noted it was deputies from the sheriff's office who aided Madison Myrene in a prostitution raid at Big Jen's Little Place in Madison which resulted in Grzywacz being indicted for taking payoffs.

He said that Maeras taking action against both Grzywacz and Cooper — who the government alleges were collecting money for the sheriff — is "completely inconsistent with guilt."

Cook said the government's "smelter" case boils down to three witnesses. He summarized the credibility of each:

Gary Lee Burns, "who has said he will lie to save himself and is trying to save himself. Burns is a perjurer."

Charlene "Kitty" Young, who never, before this trial, told authorities she saw her husband give money to Maeras. "Her testimony is a fabrication and a falsehood. Obviously, she hates Maeras. He ruined her business."

Grzywacz, "who said he would deliver Maeras and Cooper (to federal prosecutors) if only they would be reasonable and not consider sending him to jail," Cook stated. "I don't know how many times I caught him lying here. He admitted he changed his testimony to match Kitty Young's."

He alleged that Grzywacz's wife, Valerie, had testified incorrectly when she said she accompanied Grzywacz to Maeras' apartment in Edwardsville in the summer of 1972 and saw her husband deliver envelopes of money to the sheriff. "Ladies and gentlemen, he (Maeras) didn't live there then. He moved from there in January 1972."

Cook concluded, "If those (reasons) are not a reasonable doubt... John's going to make someone a tremendous trophy. Just have him stuffed."

H. Carl Runge, Attorney for Cooper, reviewed several differences in the testimony and official statements of the prosecution witnesses and said he did not call Cooper to the witness stand to defend himself, since Cooper's statement to the Internal Revenue Service April 10, 1974, was "the truth."

He urged the jury to study the transcript of that statement as Cooper's defense testimony.

"If you find there was no investigation (into payoffs from prostitution houses and towing firms), he's guilty/Convict him. If you find there was an investigation, acquit him" Runge urged.

He also said the statement Cooper made to the IRS was without the benefit of a lawyer, since the IRS told Cooper only that it was investigating Grzywacz's tax liability at that time, but then questioned him about the investigation.

Runge said it has been difficult to defend against prosecution witnesses' testimony, because the witnesses cannot remember when or where conversations and activities occurred. "We got only three or four dates, and every date we got, we ravished the prosecution." He said if witnesses had recalled a "third party" being present, "We could ask the third party."

He said the allegation that Burns and Cooper were taking 10 percent of money raised by Stoller to the sheriff is difficult to believe, since Burns testified that both he and Cooper skimmed some of the money before giving it to the sheriff.

"Maeras can figure 10 percent. If some of it were missing, Maeras would know," Runge stated.

"John Cooper doesn't deny going around with Grzywacz on Collinsville Road and telling them, 'This is Ronald Grzywacz and we're here to determine if you are paying deputy sheriffs and, more specifically, who?' That went on two to three months at the outside."

Grzywacz found himself in the middle of what he believed was a gold mine and he kept going and going and even going in the city of Madison, where he got caught at Big Jen's. Runge contended, adding that Grzywacz agreed to pay tax on the money he got from Club J but never called Cooper to help pay the tax.

Costello said Burns testified that Stoller, Cooper and Burns met at the Blue Note Tavern in Edwardsville and Stoller was told he was going to have to pay 10 percent of funds raised for the deputies' association to Maeras.

He noted that Stoller testified he never was in the Blue Note, but said that, even if such a demand had been made, "that's extortion."

Quoting from the fairy tale, "Alice in Wonderland," Costello said Burns testimony on that meeting was "stuffed and nonsense."

"They dressed that man up like a fat hog and the apple in the mouth was Lee Stoller," he said, adding that Stoller agreed to give 10 percent of his profits to Maeras "doesn't make sense to me. What's the motive for that? People just don't do that. We're back in this crazy world of Alice in Wonderland."

Successful this week on 23 counts against John Maeras and John Cooper and 19 counts against Leland Stoller, federal prosecutors now are awaiting the sentencing on April 6.

The two defendants associated with the sheriff department — Maeras was sheriff from 1971 to 1978 and Cooper's job is being challenged by the present sheriff and merit commission — could receive up to 110 years in prison. Fund-raiser Stoller is subject to as much as 90 years in prison. But such long sentences are not expected.

Prosecutors included U.S. Attorney Gerald Fines, Cass Weiland and John Carver. Activities of Cooper and Ronald Grzywacz in visiting taverns and other businesses received much attention during the testimony and closing arguments.

Carver noted that Grzywacz had recalled Maeras asking Grzywacz to pick up payoffs at bawdy houses, towing firms and other establishments, sending Cooper with him "as a team."

Other portions of Grzywacz's testimony reviewed by Carver were: An unsuccessful attempt by Grzywacz and Maeras' brother-in-law, Pete Skundrich, to solicit $6 a tow from a service station.

Payoffs received of $100 a week from the OK Cafe, $50 a week from the Club J, $6 a tow from S&K Towing, Mick's Garage and Burns service station and $150 a week from Myrene's.

An unsuccessful attempt by Grzywacz and Maeras' brother-in-law, Pete Skundrich, to solicit $6 a tow from a service station.

Grzywacz and Cooper to solicit payoffs from George Carroll of Carroll's Restaurant to run a card game in a back room.

Delivery to the sheriff monthly of the money collected. Grzywacz told of delivering funds to Maeras at his apartment in Edwardsville and at his office in the Madison County Jail.

Carver also reviewed the testimony of former Sgt. Gary Lee Burns, and reminded the jury of the following allegations:

Burns and Cooper met Stoller at the Blue Note Tavern in Edwardsville where Stoller agreed to pay 10 percent of money raised for the deputies' association to the sheriff.

Burns delivered money from Stoller to Maeras on 10 to 20 occasions from 1972 to 1975.

Delivery to old Burns that the association would pay part of the phone bills and expenses of Stoller's fundraising efforts "because Stoller was having trouble raising the money to pay the sheriff," Carver alleged.

Carver reminded the jury of several government witnesses who showed checks and records indicating Stoller cashed numerous checks, carried large amounts of cash with him, and had cash available from solicitations for the deputies' association, some of which allegedly could have been diverted to the former sheriff.

Stoller's secretary, Dolly Livingston, testified that as much as 40 percent of the money donated to the association at the beginning of solicitations for dances, advertisements and a drug book was in cash, but deposit slips showed that less than one percent of the deposits in the bank were in cash. "Where did the cash go?" Carver asked the jury.

Carver recalled that statements by Cooper to the Internal Revenue Service were introduced into evidence to show that the 006 Detective Agency was run by Cooper for Stoller in conjunction with the deputies' association.

Cooper once said that Burns and John Allen never worked for the agency, but later was shown checks to those two and said he ultimately received the money from those checks after Burns and Allen endorsed them. Cooper also admitted he might have signed Burns' endorsement on at least one check, Carver told the jury.

Carver alleged that the changing of money, on paper, between the detective agency, the deputies' association, Cooper and Maeras was "laundering" the money. "The only reason to launder is because you think it's dirty," he contended.

Carver also said cancelled checks, indicate Stoller paid Cooper $400 in 1973 and $2,100 in 1974, either as "gifts" or as payments for Cooper to help enlist other customers for the Stoller fund-raising firm.

Grzywacz story that he and Cooper had picked up payoffs was supported by testimony of towing company operators, Carroll, and others, Carver said. "Why would Carroll lie?" Carver asked the jury.

The prosecutor also stated, "Maeras is a law enforcement man and a politician. You don't look at what they do. Actions speak louder than words to politicians."

One example, Carver said, is that Maeras said he selected Grzywacz for a sensitive investigation into payoffs because Grzywacz was "an outsider" and was not known by people who may have been paying deputies.

"Who does he pick to go with Grzywacz? He sends Cooper, who is known by everyone," Carver asserted.

He also noted that Grzywacz and Cooper told authorities their investigation showed that Harold Bradshaw and Dillie Connors had been receiving payoffs from Myrene's Steakhouse, so Cooper talked to both of them in 1971.

Cooper said that in 1971 he talked to a guy who had been dead for three years about payoffs," Carver contended, noting that Connors died in December 1968 from an auto accident.

The prosecutor also said he doesn't think Maeras would have ordered such an investigation by Grzywacz and Cooper without demanding reports or records.

He noted that Maeras said the late Capt. Demos Nicholas was in charge of the investigation and should have received any reports. "Blame it on the dead guy," Carver said.

Witnesses who said Maeras had talked to them about prostitution and ways to end it were not challenged by the government, Carver said, but he urged the jury to think "not so much about what he (Maeras) said as what he did."

The only action that resulted from several talks between Maeras and Terrence Delaney, who was a state trooper at that time, was that punishment was seized in two taverns and the owners were reprimanded, Carver said.

Deputies Wesley "Bud" Kendall and Tom Hammond were involved in eight to 10 prostitution raids on Collinsville Road; when they began harassing the Club J, "What happened to them? They were both transferred out to the bondlocks," Carver contended.

Successful raids at Myrene's and the Club J were conducted primarily when the sheriff was out-of-town, or were organized by other agencies, not by actions of the sheriff, he added.

Two assistant state's attorneys who organized a raid on Myrene's in May 1972 "did in one night what the old vice-fighters could not do in two years," he contended.

When Maeras knew the Southwestern Illinois Organized Crime Council was about to raid the Club J, he did not notify the Yungs, because he knew that if he did, "The next person they would be investigating was him," Carver speculated.

Noting the defense emphasized that prostitution was nearly eliminated during the years Maeras was sheriff, Carver countered, "The county is a cleaner place in spite of John Maeras, not because of him."

Carver said the defendants tried to create "a smoke screen, thicker than the fog this morning." He concluded, "Don't let them hide behind a web of confusion or behind men they used to hide behind."

Assistant U.S. Prosecutor Cass Weiland gave the government's rebuttal after the defense closing arguments, and asked the jury for a verdict of guilty.

"They were the law enforcement in this county and they came in here to try to beat the system. Justice is a fragile thing. If you allow them to corrupt it from the inside, it will fall," he concluded.

Defense Attorney Bruce Cook described the guilty verdicts as "incredible."

The attorney alleged that a clear error in the conviction was that Maeras and Cooper were convicted of one count alleging they prepared a letter authorizing Grzywacz to discuss with the Internal Revenue Service an investigation he conducted for Maeras.

"Bill Brandt (a Granite City attorney) got on the stand and admitted he prepared the letter for Grzywacz. Yet, the jury convicted Maeras and Cooper of preparing the letter. It's incredible," Cook stated.

Cooper was contacted at home this week and said he was under the advice of his attorney, H. Carl Runge, not to discuss the case. "I'd rather not discuss it," he said.

Maeras could not be contacted for comment, and his wife referred the Press-Record to Cook.

The possibility of a contempt of court citation against Lieutenant Delbert Clemmons has been dropped, Sheriff Edward Toffant notes.

Clemmons was warned he might be charged after he testified Maeras met with him Dec. 1, 1971, and Cook was able to prove Maeras was in New Mexico at that time.

"Mr. Fines said the prosecution convinced the judge that Clemmons' testimony was sincere and was consistent with his previous statements to federal authorities. Due to his good police work and his cooperation with federal authorities, the judge agreed not to prosecute him," Toffant said.

However, the sheriff commented, some form of discipline for Clemmons is likely, since Clemmons said on the witness stand that he accepted payoffs from tow truck operators "for a short time."

Optimist pancake tickets

Optimist John Lee distributed tickets last week to members of the Granite City Optimist Club for the group's annual pancake day Sunday, March 25, from 8 a.m. until 1 p.m. at the Nameoki Recreation Center, Franklin and Amos avenues.

Tickets are selling for $2.50 for adults and $1.25 for children.

Proceeds from the annual all-you-can-eat event are used for civic projects of the club.

Granite City Optimists will be celebrating the club's 50th anniversary on Saturday, May 12.

Optimist Frank Rea is asking anyone with old newspaper clippings or pictures that are Optimist-related to loan them to the club for display. Items may be dropped off to Rea at Skotky's, 1304 Niedringhaus Ave.

G. H. Sternberg, former International Optimist president and former local club president, is general chairman of the 50th anniversary.

A special dinner will be held at the Holiday Inn at Collinsville May 12 and tickets are being sold at $25 a couple.

FOLKLORE LECTURE

Joseph C. Hickerson, head of the Archive of Folk Songs at the Library of Congress in Washington, D.C., will visit SIUE in early March, according to Charlotte Firsbee, professor of anthropology. Hickerson will give a lecture on "The History of Folk Song and Folklore Collecting and Archiving" Wednesday, March 7, at 7:30 p.m. in Lovejoy Library auditorium. PEOPLE HANDLING THE GREAT HORNED OWL was difficult when he was first rescued. Bob Zeigler, above, was able to calm the beautiful bird so that he could be transported and helped.

The rescue of Woodsy the owl

... because people do care

Woodsey the owl is alive, thanks to the kindness of many human beings.

Since the day that the great horned owl was taken from his home, injured and unable to hunt, the main concern of the people who have become involved with the bird of prey has been to return him to that home. The story of Woodsey moves in that direction because people really do care.

The magnificent owl is on the federal government's protected species list and a great deal of the care and handling of Woodsey thus far has been under government regulation.

Henry Clark captured the bird, but not to make a pet of him. Clark realized that he could not, under federal law, keep the great horned owl. But he also knew that if he left him in the wild, Woodsey would die.

So he took the injured bird home with him and tried to feed and care for him. The bird would not eat, even though he was starving.

Clark called in his uncle, Bob Zeigler, to help. Zeigler, who has a way with animals, calmed the great bird and got him to take a few bread crumbs, but both Clark and Zeigler knew that they alone could not save Woodsey. The owl was in need of professional help.

That is when Matt Tueth came into the picture. Clark called the Illinois Department of Conservation and Tueth, who is the site manager at Horseshoe Lake State Park, came out and picked Woodsey up.

Tueth knew that the owl needed more attention than his limited medical facilities could offer. He made arrangements for the owl to be moved to Principia College, Elsie, which holds a permit to care for and keep birds of prey.

The conservation officer loaded Woodsey into a makeshift cage, formed by typing two laundry baskets together. The next afternoon, Woodsey was on his way to Principia and the skilled hands of Scott Eckert, a fourth-year biology student at the college.

Eckert examined the injured Woodsey and became anxious. The bird appeared starved and looked as though he had been unable to fly for some time. Woodsey's life could be in imminent danger.

Eckert put in a call to Walter C. Crawford Jr., an ornithologist who is keeper of the birds at the St. Louis Zoo. After hearing the owl's symptoms, Crawford told Eckert to take Woodsey to the Tyson Research Center, Eureka, Mo. Crawford would meet them there.

Tyson, which is run by Crawford, is one of the best places in the country for birds of prey. Eckert works with Crawford in rehabilitating and operating on the large birds at Tyson. They must be handled in such a way that they can be returned to the wild with their ability to hunt intact.

Woodsey arrived at Tyson at about 7 p.m. that day, being accompanied by Eckert, this reporter, Crawford, his assistant, Maggie, and another special friend.

The work began to save Woodsey's life. There was great fear that infection might be present as Crawford examined the owl.

He determined that the injury was at least a month old and that Woodsey had been on the ground for most of that time. He said he felt that the bird had an impact injury rather than a gunshot wound, as had been thought. There was no infection, which relieved everyone.

The bird's broken bone, in his wing, had healed, but improperly. The great natural hunter could no longer soar and stalk. Without flight, Woodsey would not be able to catch his natural prey, mice and rabbits.

The owl was thin, starving. Crawford ordered up several injections. One was a combination of vitamins designed to increase the bird's appetite. Another two replaced some of the owl's fluids.

With the medicine and food, Woodsey would grow strong again.

When the bird is strong enough, perhaps in a couple of weeks, Crawford will operate on the great horned owl.

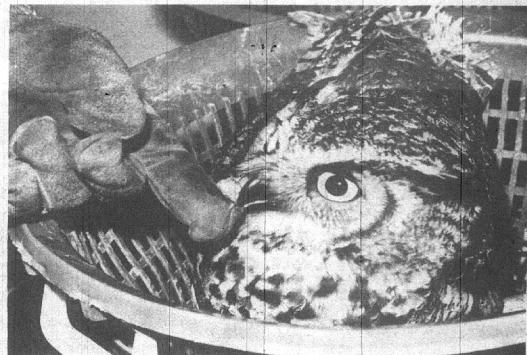

Crawford is regarded as one of the few people in the country who could save Woodsey and return him to the wild. His work in raptor rehabilitation and propagation is known throughout the country.

Tyson is supported by Crawford and a few lovers of birds such as Woodsey. Without Tyson Research Center, Woodsey would have no chance of ever being released to live in his natural habitat.

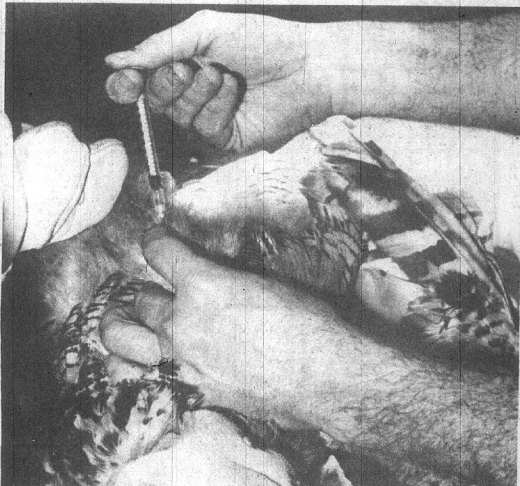

But Woodsey does have a chance, if Crawford can operate and reset the damaged wing.

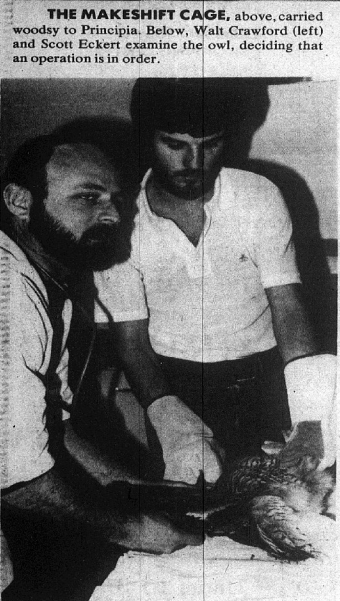

HENRY CLARK, above, gently touches his new friend, Woodsy. The owl isn't too happy and one bite from that powerful beak could have broken Clark's finger. But Woodsey was too weak to fight.

TAKING A BIT OF HAMBURGER from Matt Tueth (above). Woodsey appears to be in fairly good shape. But as he was treated at Tyson, below, it was discovered that Woodsey was very weak, close to death.

Photos and story by Cathey Jamison

7 in truck are arrested

Six men and a young woman were arrested at 3:35 a.m. Saturday after a Granite City policeman and a Madison County deputy sheriff stopped a truck in which the group was riding on Nameoki Road at Amos Avenue.

The officers alleged the truck was southbound slid past stoplights at Pontoon Road, almost over the intersection and came to a halt in east-bound lanes at the intersection.

When they stopped the truck a short distance away, officers said, it appeared persons inside the truck cab were fighting among themselves.

Open cans of beer allegedly were on the floorboards of the cab and three full cans also were confiscated from the vehicle.

After some of the seven continued to yell and voiced threats toward the officers, the original two men were joined by another Granite City officer and two more deputies, it was alleged.

Joseph E. Jones, 24, of 645 Margaret Ave., was charged with disorderly conduct and reckless driving.

Passengers, charged with disorderly conduct and illegal possession of alcohol, were:

Joseph A. Thomas, 26, of 1661 Fourth St., Madison; Fred W. Beyrau, 26, of 3101 Jill Ave., Jacob C. Hogue, 22, of 2313 W. 24th St.; Jonathan A. Thomas, 26, of 1661 Fourth St., Madison; Susan A. Davis, 19, of 3005 Circle Drive and Gary R. Vaughn, 23, of 2430 E. 25th St.

While being booked at police headquarters, Vaughn allegedly pushed and shoved an officer, knocking him to the floor, and also struck a police dispatcher on the head.

An additional charge of resisting arrest was filed against him. He was released on payment of $204 cash bond at 11:10 p.m. Saturday.

Hogue and the two Thomas brothers were released on payment of $102 cash bonds at 10:15 a.m. Saturday.

Jones and Beyrau were released at 10:40 a.m. Saturday after posting similar cash bonds, as was Miss Davis, who was released at 11:15 a.m.

WOMAN, SON BEATEN

Freda West, 35, of 4 Holiday Mobile Home Park, told "Madison County sheriff's deputies during the weekend that a man entered her mobile home, struck her head with a flower pot, struck her abdomen with a fist and struck her 11-year-old son when he came to her rescue."

Matthew 27:22 - "Plato with unto them, 'What shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ?'"

I am not sure Pilate really understood the impact his question would have on the people. It forced them to make a decision that would change the course of history!

Furthermore, I am inclined to believe Pilate may have really been asking himself the question, "What shall I do with Jesus?"

I, Jesus Christ, is God's answer to every human need. God gave his son to save any who would believe in him. Christ is the way, the truth, the life, and no man cometh unto the Father but by Him! Wherefore God hath also highly exalted Him, and given Him a name which is above every name—that of the name of Jesus every knee shall bow, and every tongue confess that Jesus Christ is Lord!

What will you do then, with Jesus which is called Christ?

NOTICE

Notice of Availability of Revenue Sharing Expenditure Information.

Please TAKE NOTICE that the Town of the City of Granite City has available for inspection of the public information about the Town's expenditure of revenue sharing and antirecession fiscal assistance funds, at its office at 2060a Delmar Avenue, Granite City, Illinois. Supporting documents of Revenue Sharing and antirecession fiscal assistance funds expenditures and proposed expenditures will be made available and explained upon request.

NELSON HAGNAUER, Supervisor

FEDERAL REVENUE SHARING/ANTI RECESSION FISCAL ASSISTANCE FUNDS
Expenditures made from Revenue Sharing or Antirecession Fiscal Assistance funds for any of these functions should be indicated on the appropriate lines below. Report in Section A the amounts that were budgeted from Revenue Sharing funds. In Section B report the amounts of Revenue Sharing funds that were expended for obligations during the year. In Section C report any Antirecession Fiscal Assistance funds expended (or obligated). In Section D report the total expenditures from all funds that your government made during the year for those functions for which you have made an entry in Section A, B, or C. You need not report on this form expenditures for functions for which no Revenue Sharing or Antirecession Fiscal Assistance funds were used. All information reported should cover your government's fiscal year. If final audited figures are not available please use estimates.
